OFF AGAIN -- ON AGAIN

Just when it appeared the controversy that has raged for several weeks between the City and the Chamber of Commerce was ended by action of a majority group of the Board of Directors of the Chamber, a new, more liberal ordinance was enacted by the City Council at a special meeting Wednesday afternoon, leaving the question still in balance but, we believe, closer to a solution. Approval by the Chamber of the new ordinance would settle the issue once and for all and the main job to be done—that of advertising Virginia Beach—could be started.

While the former ordinance enacted by Council seemed fair and just, a group of the members of the Chamber's Board seemed to gain personal satisfaction in denouncing the paper and quickly voting their disapproval.

Although the manner in which action was taken at the recent meeting of the Chamber's Board gave every indication that nothing Council might suggest would be acceptable, it is hoped that this apparent feeling among a few will disappear and the new instrument will be approved.

Throughout the controversy City Council has indicated its willingness at all times to cooperate in reaching a workable agreement with the Chamber so that that body could continue to handle the city's advertising. It is evident that Council's main purpose was to insure closer control of the money, since it is taxpayers' money and the Council is accountable for all tax funds and is directly accountable to the taxpayer.

The Chamber Secretary, Leo Hoarty, acting as a private citizen, did much work in trying to arrive at an agreeable instrument between the two bodies. It is hoped that his Board of Directors will put personal views aside, agree to the city's latest effort to cooperate, and that the city's advertising program will get underway immediately.

EDUCATION MOVES. TOO

The world "do move"! And the manner of its "moving" is well typified by the changes that have been wrought in the field of education since the days when the three R's of readin', ritin' and 'rithmetic were taught in the nostalgic—but not craved-for—little red schoolhouse.

We can recall—and suppose many of you also have the same memories—when girls in high school "took domestic science," and learned a mite about handsewing and mayhap a smidgin of millinery. Boys cut their fingers on wood-carving knives and took home to seemingly proud parent a bread board or stained magazine rack. Some of the more progressive schools had classes in ceramics, printing or wood turning and drafting—but they were, in the most part, few and far between.

And the schools themselves . . . well, perhaps the less said, the more charitable!

Finally, both parents and school authorities awake to the idea that schooling was a serious business, one that was perhaps the most potent ally of democracy . . . and both school buildings and school curricula took a turn for the better—and has, for these past several years, made steady progress.

We of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County need not step outside our borders to see modern education at its top level finest. Improved and new physical facilities, more and better trained teachers, more courses and subjects fashioned to make well-rounded and intelligent citizens—and more to come.

The driver-training program in our schools, of which the local Rotarians heard last week, is a good case in point of the up-to-dateness of our city and county educational system. We understand that Princess Anne County is the only one in the state which offers such a course to all students of driving age—both white and colored. It is a fact in which to take pride. And the projected consolidated high school at Thelia is another giant stride in meeting today's challenge, education-wise.

But the end is not yet. We must keep abreast of the rapidly changing and ever-advancing times. Like the field of medicine (it was only about 150 years ago that it was discovered that blood circulated in the body) education is only taking its first steps in the modern world. We must, if our children are to keep abreast of things in the world in which they live, see to it that every new advance in the field of learning be provided them. The world "do move"!

As some clever writer quipped: Those folks who fought taxation without representation back in the old days ought to see it WITH representation!

INFLATION POSSIBILITY MUST NOT BE IGNORED

Testimony given the Senate Banking and Currency Committee last week by members of the President's Cabinet and the Director of the Budget prompted me to join with eleven other members of the committee in sponsoring a stand-by wage and price control bill.

This bill would permit either the President or Congress, in an emergency, to freeze wages and prices for a 90-day period. It would protect us from the kind of inflation which started after the outbreak of war in Korea and threatened to reach serious proportions before a law could be passed to deal with it.

The Secretary of State told us that our nation is now under the heaviest military pressure which has existed since the Korean war began in June, 1950, and that this pressure probably will continue for some years because the communists hope they can make our economy crack under the strain of supporting defense forces.

The Director of the Budget indicated we would have a deficit for this fiscal year and that, balancing the budget for the fiscal year starting next June will be extremely difficult if the Treasury suffers a tax cut of 2.5 billion dollars.

So long as we have continuing heavy defense spending and an unbalanced budget, we cannot afford to assume that there is no danger of inflation which will further reduce the value of our already shrunken dollar.

The budget proposed by President Truman for the 1954 fiscal year estimated spending at 9.9 billion dollars more than revenue collections for that period. If the Congress succeeds in cutting an average of 10 per cent from the 78.6 billion dollars recommended for spending, there still would be a deficit of around two billion. Cutting the budget an average of ten per cent will be difficult. We can't cut the amount required for interest on the national debt, for pensions to which veterans are entitled, the more than 300 million dollars for public roads which already has been allocated to the states, and the amount required for farm price supports.

Since the total of non-military items in the budget is only around 10 billion dollars, a large portion of spending cuts to balance the budget must be taken out of military programs. In that we are handicapped by the fact that Congress has authorized government agencies, primarily the Department of Defense, to enter into long-range contracts which can't be canceled. For example, it takes five years to build a B-36 type airplane carrier at a cost of 200 million dollars. Once it is started, we cannot profitably cancel the authorization.

If Secretary of State Dulles is right in saying that the threat to our security is the greatest in our history, we cannot afford to cut our military establishment in a manner that will cripple its effectiveness. But, with President Eisenhower's personal knowledge of military needs and with a Cabinet of top business brains in the nation, the Administration should be able to plan a military budget within the framework of a sound domestic economy. The preservation of our freedom will involve sacrifices but our ancestors sacrificed far more in winning it.

The Editor's Mail Box

3 March 1953

Dear Mr. Bell:
 It is with deep regret that I hand in my resignation as a member of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce. About a year and a half ago I joined the Chamber of Commerce on a very small basis. I only paid $25.00 for my membership. One reason was that I could not afford a larger amount. The other was I wanted to see what the Chamber of Commerce "did." It was similar to the situation when several years ago I decided to play golf. Instead of buying the most expensive and best golf clubs I bought an inexpensive set to see whether I would really like the game or not. Then I found I would and could afford to have better golf clubs. I soon realized I loved the game of golf and it had much to offer. Now I have a super set of clubs. I am sorry this is not the case with the Chamber of Commerce. I am disappointed I am not inspired to have a $200.00 membership instead of handing in my resignation. I think the game has not been wholesome and has not been played on a fair basis up to the present time. At this writing, I do not feel as though it is of any benefit for me to belong to the Chamber of Commerce. When I see the way things have been run for the last year I feel nothing but antagonism because too much of the political situation has entered the picture and too much personal feeling. I find myself spending much valuable time wondering why you people can't get together and have a good working organization when you have everything at your finger-tips to be successful. The members are not interested in personal feelings or political attitudes. They are interested in the progress of the beach and furthering their business. I think it is a disgrace to the Chamber of Commerce and an insult to the general public's intelligence that things have come to this point where you have such a public organization. It is just plain cheap and common and certainly a reflection on Virginia Beach. It is a sad day in the history of any Chamber of Commerce when the political group cannot get together and plan for the progress of their community as a whole. There are fine people on both sides. It takes strength of character on each side to settle their difficulties in an amicable way and go with the show. That you have not done the progress of the Chamber of Commerce is a dead standstill. It is cutting its own throat by all the wrangling that goes on in the inner sanctum. It is a shame only a few people have to say as to what goes on because I think if the membership as a whole had anything to do with it, they would put their foot down and there would be some good and sincere action.

Somewhere at the present time the Chamber of Commerce cannot see the woods for the trees. The trees in this instance are none other than the small outstanding and progressive beach in these United States. Somebody needs to give. In fact everyone needs to give.

The slogan for Virginia Beach should be "WATCH IT GROW." But it seems to be "WHO'S GOING TO WIN OUT OVER WHO?" We have two deciding interests from which to draw. The Armed Forces and the vacationers. The Armed Forces have had enough of war and chaos. Vacationers are coming here to get away from squabbles and petty grievances. Neither parties are interested in politics and who thinks what of whom. They are more interested in finding peace of mind. They aren't interested in who is in office and who is winning. They are more interested in what the beach itself has to offer and believe you me I think if more were taken out to boost Virginia Beach and its hotels and business concerns and less time to boost or de-bust the party in office it would spell "Success" with a capital "S."

More of our Armed Forces are moving in here every day because the climate is good and from general observation the beach is a pleasant place to live. Everyone seems pleased until they get all steamed up over politics and start belittling each other. Then people become disillusioned and want to move on to more pleasant surroundings. What are we going to do about it, Mr. Taxpayer, Mr. Average Citizen, Mr. Member of the Chamber of Commerce? Are we going to pull together or pull apart? Someone made a statement to me the other day and it really hit home. "Small people worry too much about what other people are doing. Middle-sized people worry about just things, and great people think up ideas for progress." There are great people in the Organization and on the People's Ticket but they all believe themselves by worrying too much about what other people are doing. What difference does it make in the final analysis who is in office? Whoever has won out should be backed wholeheartedly by the opposing party as long as they are in office, if only from the standpoint of good citizenship, and I might add, through a desire to let this wonderful place called Virginia Beach find its place in the sun and in the hearts of people throughout our nation. I sincerely hope in my own humble and unimportant way in the coming year we will put ourselves aside, our petty grievances, and opinions and let the people come here have what they are looking for . . . good living, lovable living and peaceful living whether it's for a day, a week or for years. I hope that in the very near future I will have the inspiration and incentive to re-join the Chamber of Commerce with a whole lot of large membership fee, but I cannot. I think every tax payer, every member of the Chamber of Commerce and every citizen should pry into this situation and get those people who are running it out of their little selfish rut and truly let Virginia Beach's slogan be "WATCH IT GROW."

I am neither Organization or People's Ticket, Mr. Bell. Having been here only two years I consider myself a new-comer. I don't think anyone should take a definite political stand in any community until they know what they are doing. That is what I have been trying to find out. I feel perfectly justified in writing this letter, more so than a person who is taking sides in the matter. I am just a by-stander and an on-looker who has weighed the situation on a very impartial and practical basis. I have carefully observed both resolutions which have been presented. There is very little difference that I can see. I do, however, feel that the City is justified in maintaining a certain amount of control due to the very adverse and unnecessary publicity which came out last year during the Sand Festival. That is one of the times when everyone at this beach had knocked themselves out to boost the beach. Through antagonism and desire for personal gain at the same time, all those atrocious stories came out about the political set-up and the police system. At least those involved in the write-ups could have waited until the benefits from the Sand Festival had soaked in and the vacationers had left the beach. It was poor judgment and I think it is high time some reins were put on and some control maintained. I think the City is justified in taking the stand it has and I think the Chamber of Commerce has definitely shown itself unwilling to cooperate. I feel sure it all stems from false pride; politics and a desire for personal gain and glory of some members of the board.

I think those members who can't get the seed of contempt out of their hearts and work with an unbiased opinion and only with the desire for the gain of the beach, it's business, it's citizens, and it's taxpayers should resign and stay out of the Chamber of Commerce until they can work unselfishly and for the good of all.

My compliments to Mr. Hoarty, your Manager. He has worked under a terrific strain. I think he deserves a medal for being in between such a repulsive and atrocious situation. He has accomplished much and could have done more had he been in more pleasant surroundings. He has the talents but you all are missing them. I am resigning because I cannot be a good member under the present circumstances. Whenever I can feel that I can join the Chamber of Commerce and be proud of it then I want to come back.

Scanning the News

President Eisenhower's administration made its second big step back to free market economy by scrapping federal price controls over thousands of items, including eggs, poultry, soap, gasoline, crude oil, newsprint and all rubber products.

This move has long been advocated by many economists and legislators who contend that price controls have out-lived their usefulness. This doesn't mean, however, that the move has unanimous approval of Washington. There are many who are watching with skepticism, if not with actual alarm.

Their great fear is runaway prices. There have been a few price increases, but nothing to become alarmed about. There may even be further price increases before a leveling-off and final stabilization is achieved.

President Eisenhower in refusing to sign the bill, gave his own opinion. He said that it was really right and not what you think is right. Sometimes we are influenced in our right thinking by our own personal feelings. I hope this will not be the case with you. I think it would be good for you to take a walk down the part of the beach where they had the Sand Festival last year. Leave all your cohorts behind. Think unselfishly in your heart and in your mind. Look out over the water where it is cool and clear and ask yourself - are your thoughts cool and clear or are they encumbered with all of the rash political situation, the fact that you were defeated last year, your antagonism toward certain people, are you trying to regain your self-respect through your present attitude? It all seems like a cancerous growth to me over the past year. I think all of you need to wake up and find the peace. People are making fun of every one of you. You all aren't impressing anyone but yourselves.

I want you to answer one question. Do you think the public is going to digest all of this friction much longer? I, for one, am fed up and it is up to you and those with whom you are connected to get things straightened out. All of your work and efforts the past year have been completely misapplied. I hope for your own sake and the benefit of all the citizens, property owners, and people in business that next year's efforts will show better results.

Sincerely,

to spare the lives of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted of espionage against the United States, pointed out that their crime "far exceeds that of taking the life of another citizen; it involves the deliberate betrayal of the entire nation and could very well result in the death of many thousands of innocent citizens."

Delays have continued to postpone the carrying out of the death sentence, but it is generally believed that Eisenhower's action eliminates any chance of final clemency for the Rosenbergs.

If executed the Rosenbergs will be the first American citizens to pay with their lives for the crime of espionage against the United States. And it is a certainty that they will be hailed in Communist countries as martyrs. There has been wide agitation among Communists the world over for clemency for the couple, who contend they are innocent.

To the casual observer the administration's proposed legislative program does not appear over ambitious. Many have overlooked one item on the agenda that may cause considerable debate—or an all-out fight—in the halls of congress.

The item is statehood for Hawaii. And the reason it may cause battle is practical politics. Hawaii is normally Republican. This in itself would not cause the fight if Alaska, considered Democratic, were not also seeking statehood.

I like television and so do the kids around the house. But I'm not so certain about this new vocabulary it is giving to youngsters.

In my day it was radio and horse opera. Now the vogue of "space opera" is giving the old time westerners a run for their money.

This new vocabulary of space cadets and adventurers sometimes startles me, especially when one of the boys is the source.

For instance, I told one of them the other day, "You are doing very well in school this year."

"Sure," says he. "I'm rocketing on all jets."

"Huh?" says I.

Then the other one pipes up, "He's full of space gas, Pop."

"Plug your jets," the first screams. "Wait a minute, boys," says I. "Explain all this."

At length and impatiently they explained: "Plug your jets" means stop talking or boasting. "Full of space gas" means to be mistaken.

"How do you go away in television conversation?" I asked.

"Blast off," they said. "How else?"

"O. K.," says I, "BLAST OFF!"

The result is, then, two territories seeking statehood, one voting Republican and one Democratic, with the President giving his approval to the Republican-voting territory, in this case Hawaii. Too much hasn't been said about the problem yet, but there is a feeling that Democrats in congress will make the issue one on which they will make their voice heard.

His report was startling in that the strength of Europe today is not what the average citizen had believed. He said failure to unite "has so weakened the Western European countries that today no one of them could offer strong resistance to the Red army."

He added that "nothing that the United States can do will ever be enough to make Europe safe if it is divided into rival national camps."

From his observations one is inclined to believe that the next 60 days may decide the eventual fate of Europe and perhaps the entire world.

'Most Distinctive' Is Term for 1953 Studebaker Car

Acclaimed at press reviews as the most distinctive cars ever built by an American automobile company, Studebaker's new 1953 passenger car models are now being displayed locally by the Brooks-Shorter Motor Company, Studebaker dealer.

Designed by internationally famous Raymond Loewy, the new Studebaker cars break as sharply with American contemporary design as did their predecessors immediately after World War II. Those who have seen the cars at special previews declare the new models will set the pace for future automobile design and engineering as markedly as did the company's earlier postwar models. Mr. Shorter, of the local dealership, asserts the public is in for a terrific surprise.

"While the new cars reflect to some extent the influence of European styling, they retain in every respect the comfort, stamina, and roadability so characteristic of Studebaker cars. These cars are not ex-

Game Commission Attempts to Restore Wild Turkey Flocks Is Being Watched With Interest

Progress of the efforts of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries to restore the wild turkey to all suitable ranges in the state is interesting to watch. There has been a notable growth in cooperation on the part of interested citizens, recognized from the beginning as necessary in bringing about ultimate success.

Pen-raised turkeys are particularly vulnerable to all sorts of predators and disease. It has long been recognized among game managers that the wild turkey is one of the hardest of all species to establish, even though the breeding potential is high. Excellent progress is being made in some areas although it is difficult, in wild country, even to obtain accurate check on the percentage of survival.

Some years ago, surveys showed that there were approximately 2,000 square miles of suitable range, mainly in the southwestern section of the state, where the wild turkey had been completely exterminated. In the fall of 1948, a program started in a modest way toward the ultimate reestablishment of wild turkeys on all of these ranges. Along with this have also been efforts to give help in many areas where there were low populations of native birds.

The very fact that the vacant ranges have not been adequately repopulated by now is evidence of the difficulty involved in bringing back these birds. Production of purchased wild turkeys at the Cumberland game farm has been tremendously stepped up in the last several years, and the Commission has never been unaware of the calculated risk that a high percentage of released birds will perish.

During the fiscal year 1952, 1,667 pen-raised turkeys from the game farm were released, with a fine prediction of additional birds being held there for future release. There will be considerably heavier releases in the fiscal year 1953, both on the ranges formerly unoccupied and on ranges in various parts of the state where there are small existing flocks of native birds.

Prime objective is to bring off successful hatches in the wild, with full knowledge that the second-generation birds will be far better equipped to take care of themselves than birds raised in captivity. If the percentage of loss of pen-raised turkeys is high this is to be expected, but a few of the birds will survive and most successfully with the prospect of an established flock where this occurs.

The production of turkeys at the game farm this year will be about 3,000, and the output will probably be stabilized at that figure. In other words, the point of diminishing return will be reached and increased output would call for plant expansion which would probably be uneconomical. Current production is deemed adequate. Protective efforts of the game wardens are being intensified and the general public is being helped.

On those ranges where turkeys had been exterminated, it is generally customary to release gobblers in the fall which are in their second year for, normally, the males do not breed until two years old. Hence, which will nest the year after they are hatched, are released in the spring. Theory is that sufficient gobblers will survive the winter and become acclimated in the wild to call the hens to them in the coming year.

Special efforts are being made to protect the native wild birds which are present on many ranges, but in reduced numbers. It is much easier to build back the turkey population where even very small numbers of native birds exist, and pen-raised turkeys to replenish existing stocks are generally released only in areas where there are closed hunting seasons.

Williams Gives Summary of FFA Work at Banquet

The Creeds Future Farmers of America held their Annual Father and Sons Banquet in the Creeds cafeteria on February 25 at 7:00 P. M. Frank Williams, Vice-President of the organization, gave the following summary of the year's work in vocational agriculture.

Twenty-six boys in Creeds F.F.A. completed 115 enterprises this past year. 60 acres in corn produced 428 bushels which sold for over $5600.00. This averages 75 bu. per acre and $90.00 profit. Due to dry weather last summer the state average yield was just about one-half of what we averaged. We boys received $4,500 of this corn money.

We grew 56 acres of soybeans which averaged 26 bu. per acre and $60.00 net profit. We boys received $3,152.00 of this money.

We grew 19 acres of potatoes which produced 1280 bags. These potatoes sold for $4,713.00 above cost or a profit of $249.00 per acre. We received this entire amount.

Our best paying crop was sweet potatoes. On eight and one-half acres we produced 1600 bu. which netted $4,277.00. The drought cut our yield, but our profit was a little over $500.00 per acre. Seven of us boys got $5,008.00 from our sweet potatoes.

Seventy-three enterprises, in field, horticulture and truck crops on 165 acres produced $20,294.00 worth of food and feed. We raised 1500 hens

AAU Tourney Starts Tonight Extra Teams Force Advance

With the addition of two more teams in the State AAU Women's Basketball Tournament, play will get under way in the Virginia Beach High School gymnasium tonight (Thursday) at 8:00 o'clock, instead of Friday as originally planned.

The first game will pit the Shamrocks of Portsmouth against the City of Richmond team. A second game beginning at nine o'clock, will witness the battle of the Naval Base Waves against the Medical College of Virginia. Both of these first night games are expected to be close contests.

Play will resume Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when the Glenn and baby chicks which produced a profit of $480.00, 62 head of hogs, cattle and sheep brought in $2,180.00 more profit for us.

Our total labor income for the year was $22,916.00, of which we boys received $19,303.00.

We are competing with nine other F. F. A. Chapters in Forestry Judging, Crop Judging, Public Speaking and Dairy Judging from four other counties nearest us. We were host to 5 representatives from each of these chapters on Feb. 16. On April 11 at 9:00 A. M. at Bayville Farms, Creeds Chapter again will be host at the Federation Dairy Judging Contest.

The Creeds Ruritan Club sponsored a corn growing contest among our own members, Floyd Waterfield, Jr. (Continued on page six)

Jordan team will meet the winner of the Shamrock City of Richmond, and at 4:30 the local Waves White Demons, defending champions, will go into action against the winner of the Waves Medical College game.

Beginning at 7:30 Friday night, Falls Church, last years' Consolation winner, will meet McGuire Hospital, and at 8:30 Dan River Varsity of Danville will oppose the strong Norfolk Southern team in what should be an outstanding contest. The Danville team is annually one of the state's best and won the state crown in both 1948 and 1949. The Fall girls were runners-up to the Demons in this year's Norfolk Girls' League play.

Teams from out of town are staying at the Beach Plaza and the Hotel Fairfax hotels.

The AAU playoffs are being sponsored by the Virginia Beach Sports Club in cooperation with the Virginia Association, Amateur Athletic Union.

This is the first time in three years that more than eight teams have entered the state-wide event and the Sports Club will try to make this the outstanding tournament of them all.

The four seeded teams are the defending champion Demons, Falls Church, Glenn Jordan and Dan River. However there is little difference in these and some of the lower bracketed teams.

THE NEWS IN SHOES

All over America this week, men, women, boys and girls have been looking to their shoe wardrobes for Spring trotting about and wondering what's new in shoes.

For men: The newest, smartest are slip-on loafers but a far cry from the easy-going Sloppy Joes that first introduced the loafer fad, and they have no laces! These are sleek, slim and wonderfully comfortable as well as fashion right. Those-In-The-Know predict that fifty per cent of the men will wear them this summer. Virginia Beach beau brummels will be happy to know that there is a design for every occasion in these newly popular slip-ons, from sport through business and even to the formal affair!

For women: The perfect suit shoe will be the pump with the slimmer line and higher heel. The sling pump is still "number one," but the closed pump—which is much more becoming, I think—is a close second. A big hit fashion will be the pointed toe patent leather pump that will be worn early in the Spring, especially with the low, square-cut vamp. The new patent pumps with wide open design and with a single curved strap, or closed front and back with open sides, will be top toe news for Spring.

For tots: Gleaming patent strap shoes for the tiny miss, classic brown oxford for little brother and puffy "bed" shoes for baby—with the heel fitting snugly to grip the foot firmly to control baby's balance—is the usual kiddies' shoe news.

SUITS WILL SEE YOU THROUGH

This year's suits will more than likely be beige, but most often they will be good old, smart-looking navy blue. Invariably the jackets will be boxy and invariably the skirts will be slim. The boxy jackets may taper a bit towards the hips, which will emphasize the slight backward curve from collar to hemline. Suits have been popular with some women all year long and, of course, the knack of selecting a new one is carefully consider the color and line before purchasing it. Ovetta Culp Hobby, the new Federal Security Administrator, who won an honorable mention in 1949's national best dressed list and was one of the twelve best dressed this year, insists on beautiful simple lines and the best quality possible in her suits, especially so they will hold up, press well and not wrinkle. She feels, too, that suits will see her through the whole working day. She has suits that she wears to her office and can then go straight on to dinner by just shedding her jacket. She thinks a suit is "go anywhere" by simply changing them around with day blouses or dressy blouses for tea or dinner and the theatre.

TO PART, OR NOT TO PART, THAT IS THE QUESTION

Queen Elizabeth's hairdresser, M. Emile, is in a tizzy waiting to know if Liz will part her hair in the middle or not. He claims that any feminine head carrying a crown, tiara or coronet should have a middle parting of the hair since it is symmetrical and gives good balance to a head so adorned. This might not be out to be a tip to any of you gals expecting to take up the flower tiara this summer, whether your flower is the real McCoy or otherwise. One London jeweler has just brought out a properly designed metal frame that can make a temporary tiara out of two bracelets and a brooch. When the tiara season is over, bracelets and brooch can be unhooked and be worn as they were originally intended to be.

MORE MEAT FOR YOUR MONEY

Have you ever stopped to think just how you could get more meat for your money? One way is just this: "Save meat with low heat." You can actually realize a saving of as much as two or three servings of meat by cooking at a low rather than high temperature.

A constant 300 degree oven is recommended for beef, veal, pork and sugar-cured ham; 350 degrees for fresh pork ham or loin pork roast. When searing is suggested you turn the heat up during the initial part of roasting in order to seal in the juices. That is no longer is the rule. It has been found that searing is not necessary to seal in the juices. You will actually get a much juicier, more tender piece of meat to serve if you cook it at a low temperature.

And did you know that low temperatures apply not only to roasting, but to all meat cookery methods.

Roasting is a moist method of cooking meats and you will find it an easy method—one that produces delicious, tender meat. Roll or dip the meat into flour—brown on both sides in hot fat—season with salt and pepper; add very small amount of liquid. Tomato juice, or sour cream may be used as the liquid and give a wonderful flavor. Cover pan with tight fitting lid to retain moisture, cook at simmering temperature on top of range or in moderate oven—300 to 350 degrees.

Carving an Art

Carving is an art. Expert carving at the table adds to the appeal of any dinner. Here are a few simple tricks that help to make carving easier.

First of all, the cooking of the roast is highly important. It must not be cooked too much—or too little. A roast meat thermometer is in cooking meat to the correct degree of doneness. You can cook without the meat thermometer, tho, just cook your pot roast, weighing 3-4 to 4 pounds, 2-3 to 3 hours. For a standing rib roast, weighing 4 to 5 pounds, 2-3 to 2 1/2 hours per pound for standing roast. And to help in carving after cooking properly, let roast stand in a warm place (not in oven) for about 30 minutes before carving. The principal rule in carving a roast is to carve across the grain. If you have been asked "Should the carver stand or sit while carving?" the answer is: either way is acceptable, it's up to the individual.

In carving, as in everything else, there is a right way and a wrong way, and invariably, the right way is the best and easiest.

What a pleasure it is, to watch a carver who carves with ease and grace. It immediately brings forth enthusiastic and favorable comment. Do not let beautiful handles alluring you when buying a carving knife. Select a carving knife with steel that will satisfactorily hold its edge. The length of knives to be used for various cuts of meat and fowl is largely a matter of personal preference. All knives should be sharpened before they are brought to the table.

Here's a recipe for BRAISED BEEF CUBES—and there'll be no carving problem when you serve it. It's easy to prepare and very, very good:

Braised Beef Cubes
2 pounds beef chuck, cut in 1 1/2 inch cubes
2 medium sized onions, sliced
Salt and pepper
1/2 cup grated American cheese
1 cup sour cream
1 cup water

Dredge beef in flour, brown in hot fat, add onion, salt and pepper, then combine sour cream, water and grated cheese and pour over meat. Cover closely and cook very slowly until tender, about 2 hours.

Braised Veal Chops, Hawaiian
4 loin veal chops, 3-4 inch thick
Salt and pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
4 prunes
4 slices pineapple
8 medium sized carrots
Juice of pineapple, plus enough water to make 1 cup

Brown chops in hot fat, salt and pepper, place slice of pineapple on each chop, putting prune in center of each slice. Arrange carrots around chops, add water and pineapple juice then cover and cook slowly 1 1/2 hours. Serve on platter on bed of hot buttered rice.

Don't forget now: "Save meat with low heat."
Bye . . . see you next week.

Davis, will take to the road with her recently opened Broadway show, "Two's Company," to try to get back the producers' and backers' monies since the New York showing—with its postponements, etc.—have given them a financial loss and migraine headaches. Bette is wonderful in the show, but sickness and throat troubles have been a distinct handicap.

Local Merry Matrons Memo: Mrs. R. H. Owens modeled a peasant frock in summertime embroidered cotton, carrying a garden parrot to match, in the Woman's Club fashion revue last week . . . Lucile Clark was a thrill because her beauty shop favorite, Agnes, had sprinkled silver sparkles in her hair-do to make her look merrier and happier . . . President Mrs. Fred S. Perkins chose turquoise blue satin for her formal, which was the right color complement for her auburn tresses! . . . Mrs. Douglas Wilson has the best looking white Miamis bungs in Tidewater and they are becoming!

Mrs. Harry Ames, president of the African Violet Society, is plenty excited about her white African violet, a blue ribbon winner with a pedigree "long" . . . Florence Wilson Morissette all aglow after her three weeks sojourn in Palm Beach!

Mrs. T. B. Porterfield has returned to her home at Glade Springs after being the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William W. McClanahan.

THE LOCAL SCENE . . .
Dickie Mumford and Angie Alexander are Two Nice Guys! They were most helpful and entertaining in last week's Woman's Club "Budgeters' Revue," and it's time we all tipped our chapeaux to these two local boys who never say "no" when asked to pitch in for a favor. Both boys, in case you didn't know, are in the next Virginia Beach Little Theatre performance of "Mister Angel." How about buying a ticket for the show? . . . Principal Johnson of the Virginia Beach High School takes such a kindly interest in any event staged in the new Virginia Beach High School auditorium and in the people participating, that it's nice to see him so late from the school. The group known as the "Teen Tones," those cute warbling thrushes Bill Miller, music director at the V.B.H.S., has trained! Did you see the real live dogwood tree the Virginia Beach Florist boys created for the stage the night of February 27th? It was super! . . . We wonder if Captain W. S. Butts of the Oceanic Naval Air Station realizes how many friends his quartette, "Two Bobs, a Chick and a Buck," have made for the Air Station with their appearances for the Junior and Senior Women's Clubs shows? The boys hail from Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin and New York, and, as Doris Day, the stage star and fur fashionist, said last Saturday when she heard them sing to Martha Hatchett Owens on "A. B. W.'s Green Thumb Show," they have a sweet quality and are all gentlemen." She also said that most of the boys have the bebop and hot jazz approach and these boys, with their "sweet quality," are refreshing. Your Alabesce seconds the statement, too!

Merry Matrons

Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, with fourteen other club members, returned to America last Friday after a two-month round-the-world air tour to "further the cause of inter-continental solidarity among women as an instrument of world peace and a weapon against communism." She said that this delegation was most impressed by the progress the women of India and Japan had made and related how that in one Japanese city of about 200,000 there are now 30,000 dues-paying Women's Club members. All the good news for the Princess Anne Club members as well as the Federation's fast becoming an important and powerful international organization. Who said merry matrons just keep merry and have nothing else on their minds? Our attractive merry matron residing at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, will snip the ribbon opening the 1953 National Capital Flower and Garden Show today at 2 p. m. at the National Guard Armory. Viewing the show with Mrs. Eisenhower on this first day will be Mrs. Richard Nixon, wife of our Vice President, and members of the Cabinet, congress, and their wives. Of course, everyone expects Mamie to make a bee-line right after the ribbon snipping to the exhibit of President Eisenhower roses, which are dark red blooms and will be shown publicly for the first time at the Washington show today. ### PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

Princess Anne County was the order of the day on February 24 when the basketball team of the county defeated the local team in a game which was the only substitute to get into the game.

As one of the first events of the afternoon, Mrs. Julia Hodgson was presented guest of the faculty by Principal James A. Johnson.

The girls' game started with the following teacher line-up: Miss Harriet Steel, Miss Martha Carr, Mrs. Betty Brinkley, Miss Kitty Massey, Mrs. Barbara Dicks and Mrs. Paul Myers. Soon after the opening of the game the line-up changed, and from then on it changed rapidly and often. A disturbance was caused by a spy from the Stalingrad High School, Mrs. Lucille Carmichael, who was quickly arrested by an alert FBI representative, Miss Helen Avelt, and removed from the gymnasium after a wild chase through the balcony.

The teachers had a make-up squad composed of Mrs. Margaret Jeter and Mrs. Grace DuVal, to keep them fresh and pretty. There was also a first aid squad composed of Mrs. Tillie White and Mrs. Janet Patterson. This squad was urgently needed when one of the teachers was tackled by some over-enthusiastic out-of-season footballer.

The game ended in the traditional "fuss" and both teams made way for the boys.

There was less clowning and more serious playing when Mr. Johnson, J. Miller, J. Allen Tyler, Mr. Faurie and Coach Fred Jones took to the court. Several students, U. T. Brown, Bob Jon Gardner, Bob Dering, Dave Davis, Frank Taffell and Hervey Ouellette also played on the teachers' team. Starting line-up for the boys' team included Waverly Duke, T. J. Davis, Brian Zittrain, Jack Gardner and Edward Mott. The fast moving game ended in victory, but whether for students or faculty, depends on knowledge not.

SEAHAWK GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

The Seahawk girls' basketball team met the Kempsville sextette in the home gym on February 20, but took the short end of a 57-43 score. Starting for Virginia Beach were:

Helen Hayman, Myrtle Woodward, Julia Values, Hampton Stingsuff, Betty L. Cornick and Cheryl Wallace. Helen Hayman was high scorer for the game with 22 points. She and Betty Lou Cornick served as co-captains for the game. Lucy Chisman was the only substitute to get into the game.

On February 24 the girls' team traveled to Great Bridge, and suffered a 59-47 defeat. Starters were Helen Hayman, Julia Values, Myrtle Woodward, Betty Cornick, Cheryl Wallace and Hampton Stingsuff. High scorer was Myrtle Woodward with 24 points.

EIGHTH GRADERS LOSE TO OCEANA TEAM

On February 27, the eighth grade girls' basketball team met the Oceana eighth grade girls in a return tilt. The first of the two games was played on February 20 at Oceana. The second game, an 18-22 win for Oceana, was played in the local gym. Starting for Virginia Beach were Lorraine Chittum, Sandy Briggs, Diane McCombs, Carol Johnson, Shelby Parrish and Suzanne Forbes. Sandy Briggs was high scorer with ten points.

The Virginia Beach eighth graders are coached by Lucy Chisman and Jacques Dashiell, High School juniors.

ELEMENTARY DOINGS

SIXTH GRADERS STUDY AMERICAN AUTHORS, POETS

Miss Rebecca Hooper's sixth grade recently began the study of American authors and poets. The class became interested in poets on Longfellow's birthday. They named as many poets as they could and started a booklets on American poets. When the students read a poem by an American poet they summarized it, told why they liked or disliked it, studied the poet's life and saw how it influenced his work, and told whether his work was realistic or imaginative. These students learn to read, understand and appreciate good poetry.

VOLCANO MADE BY MRS. DUVAL'S CLASS

Mrs. DuVal's sixth grade has divided into six science groups. Each developed a topic into an interesting project for the rest of the class, to see and enjoy.

The groups are studying hydro-electric power, volcanoes, radio, the course food taken through the body, growing plants, and volcanoes. The group interested in volcanoes has created a working model from a cheese box, an electric fan, a flick substance made from soap flakes, and an electric fan. The cheese box has a large hole in its top and the fan is placed in it. The outside of the box has a hole in its lower side, with a hole in its lower side. The cheese box has been covered with the soap flakes, which have been broken by an electric motor into a thick foam, that soon hardened into a wall for the cone of the volcano. The model is filled with sawdust of paper shreds that erupt when the fan is turned on. The students formed a cut-away section and pointed it to represent the gas and molten lava rushing up through the cone. The students became interested in volcanoes because one of their classmates, who has traveled widely in Europe, told of his visit to Pompei, which the child studied in class.

ELEMENTARY STUDENTS TO COUNTY COUNCIL

Members of the Virginia Beach High School Elementary Student Co-operative Association were hosts to all the Elementary SCA officers in Princess Anne County when the SCA County Council met on Thursday, February 26, at the local gym. A seventh grade student at Virginia Beach, presided over the meeting in the absence of the president of the Council.

The theme of the meeting, "Character Building," was illustrated by a bare tree, to which each representative pinned a large green leaf, labeled with a character trait which their SCA had developed.

PLAY DAY PLANNED BY SCA GROUP

The Elementary Students Co-operative Association of Virginia Beach High School met February 13 to discuss the annual play day, which is usually held in May. Mrs. DuVal spoke about the SCA's next project, a talent show, which will be given in about three weeks, under the direction of Mrs. White. The sixth grade prepared the entertainment for the meeting.

Mrs. DuVal's class presented a play, "The Three Tests," and pantomimed and sang "Winter Wonder-

Chesapeake Club To See Playlet

The Women's Club of Chesapeake Beach will hold its monthly luncheon meeting next Tuesday, March 10, at 1:30 o'clock in the Community House.

An art exhibition will be given by members of the art class of the club, showing work in pastel and water colors, which have been completed in the past year under the direction of Mrs. Otis Shumate, a professional art instructor from Norfolk. Mrs. E. M. George, Fine Art Department chairman, will be in charge of the exhibition.

The club's building fund was enriched by $65 recently, the proceeds from a bridge and canasta party.

Next Tuesday's luncheon hostesses will be Mrs. W. H. Harris, Mrs. O. S. Brown, Mrs. P. L. Lundford, Mrs. C. O. Smith, Mrs. B. V. Reynolds, Sr., and Mrs. B. V. Reynolds, Jr.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Carl Forsberg and Miss Emily Dunn, and the program will concern historic homes and gardens of the Garden Club of Virginia.

Mrs. Myers' class gave a skit concerning Benjamin Franklin's discovery of electricity and sang a song. Miss Hooper's class entertained with songs which featured harmonizing.

MRS. MYERS' CLASS STUDIES BACTERIA

On Friday of last week you would have thought that Mrs. Pauline Myers' class room had suddenly been turned into a dairy. It had everything except the cow. After everyone in the class had helped to churn, they were served golden guernsey butter. This study of the dairy process helped to illustrate to the class the analysis they had been making of harmful and helpful bacteria.

At least half of all high school graduates should go to college, say educators of this country.

Theatre Day Block Planting

Mrs. Gilmore Tibbott, president of the Council of Garden Clubs, announced this week that the Chesapeake Theatre Day Block Planting project, leaving only five blocks, at $300 each, for the completion of this project.

Planting is well underway in the entire area, with some trees and smaller shrubs having already been placed. Flowering shrubs will be planted as soon as the weather permits. The State Highway Department has graded, seeded, fertilized and planted the 46-block strip, and will be responsible for its maintenance. The Council of Garden Clubs has purchased the plants used, thru a fund-raising drive for this purpose, with many organizations, business concerns and individuals making substantial contributions.

Mrs. Tibbott also announced that the City Council of Virginia Beach has approved funds for continuing this grading and planting in like manner in the seven adjacent blocks, running from the city limits to the Cavalier Hotel.

Additional funds are needed, to the extent of about $1,500, to complete this beautification program. Contributions may be mailed to P. O. Box 33. Recent individual contributors are G. Watts Hill, W. R. Ashburn, Mrs. R. L. Duggett, Mrs. E. H. Cohn and Mrs. J. W. Musick.

When the celebration on the beach floor was opened in 1927, the night club was 26 years old.

Admission for the show will be 10 cents. Tickets are available at the club.

The Studebaker Commander V-8 4-door sedan illustrates the low, sweeping lines characteristic of the new 1953 models. Quality apparent in the "classroom" of the styling, the use of the horizontal lines to suggest speed, and the conservative design motif along the sides. Overall length of this model is 194 1/2", height is 60 1/2". Twelve color choices are available.

Unique Fashion Show Scheduled For High School Next Wednesday

When the Lighthouse Park Garden Club brings the Thelmaer Fashion Show to Virginia Beach on March 11 at the Virginia Beach High School, they will be introducing a very interesting and unique presentation.

The show, to begin at three-thirty o'clock Wednesday afternoon, was previously presented by Thelmaer's in the city of Richmond.

The full color slides of some of the world's greatest art treasures, combined with the modern styles of today, depicts to the viewer how the designer works. This, with Mr. Holbrook's beautiful setting, introduces some of Thelmaer's loveliest creations from America and French designers.

Miss Betty Winston is the charming fashion coordinator and commentator.

Mrs. A. Stanley Mundy, president of the Lighthouse Park club, and general chairman for the event, has selected Mrs. R. Lee Simpson as ticket chairman, telephone 2020-W, with Mrs. L. Finley, Jr., and Mrs. W. W. McClannan, telephones 1502 and 1584 respectively, as assistants.

Mrs. W. C. Emannichon is serving as publicity chairman, Mrs. William Meredith is in charge of decorations and Mrs. William Rueger is chairman for the hostesses.

Donations of $1.50 are asked, and the money realized from the show will go to the landscaping of another block of Atlantic Avenue. Any surplus will be used in landscaping the triangles of Lighthouse Park.

In view of the limited space and the fact that only one matinee will be given, those who wish to attend should obtain invitations at the earliest possible moment.

Luncheon will be served at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club at 12:30 o'clock.

World War I cost the U. S. $35 billion, or six months income for the national government.

Boarding house reach

Although it has long been the subject of amusing remarks, few people would consider it the best way to serve a meal. The old-fashioned "pass the butter please" has always been a better way of getting food around the table. Like most rules of courtesy, it is simply a better way to get things done. When it comes to party lines, courtesy in keeping calls reasonably brief and allowing intervals between calls also means better service for all.

Ready... and able

In the event of a war emergency, our communications system is our first line of defense. The first calls to action will be telephone calls. Your telephone company, always alert to this fact, has carefully integrated its vast communications system into the Civil Defense Program. Should danger strike, the telephone is ready and able to play a vital, lifesaving role.

Proper Precautory Measures Can Solve Most Eyesight Troubles

Most of the eyesight problems of children could be prevented by the application of well-tested precautionary measures, according to a statement issued this week by the Virginia Optometric Association in connection with "Three Year Vision Week," March 1-7.

The precautionary measures recommended are:

1. A better reading environment in school and at home.
2. Postponement of reading and other tasks requiring close visual concentration until the child is well rested.
3. Early training in safety, so that the child avoids accidents from scissors and similar common household objects, and toys that cause most cases of childhood blindness.

Herzer Concert at Cavalier Mar. 20

The Cavalier Garden Club announces the presentation of the brilliant pianist, Clifford Herzer, in a concert on Friday afternoon, March 20, at 3:30 o'clock in the ballroom of the Cavalier Hotel. This hour has been chosen to allow the school children an opportunity of attending—those interested in music of this nature. The program will feature romantic music of the 19th century, a period of brilliant composition.

Mr. Herzer appeared before a large and enthusiastic audience during Lent of last year, and there have been many requests for a return engagement, now being fulfilled.

Tickets may be obtained from any club member, from Mrs. Patrick Allen, Mrs. Tibbroke, Mrs. John Adenbrook, or at the hotel on the afternoon of the concert.

Proceeds are to go toward the planting of one block of the Atlantic Avenue project. Tickets are $1.00 plus tax.

For hundreds of years it was believed that European swallows spent their winters buried in river mud. Actually, they fly to Africa in small groups.

North End Voters to Discuss Water Bond Issue on 24th

March 24th at 8 o'clock has been set as the date and time for a public meeting on North Virginia Beach's forthcoming special election on a $350,000 bond issue for the construction of water mains.

Residents of the North Virginia Beach Sanitation District will vote April 7 in a special referendum on a bond issue not to exceed $150,000 for the construction of new mains and placing of fire plugs in that section.

An order was entered in the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County this week by Judge Floyd E. Kellam, fixing the date of the special election.

Money from the sale of bonds in the proposed issue will be used for the construction of new water mains lying into lines now maintained by the City of Norfolk and the City of Virginia Beach and the extension of existing mains in an effort to alleviate an acute water shortage which has been experienced in the area the past several summers.

Meanwhile, W. Alfred Etheridge, executive secretary of the county's Board of Supervisors, disclosed that permission has not yet been granted by the City of Virginia Beach — a necessity before construction can be started.

In order to expedite the critically needed service, however, the county has ordered plans prepared for the construction.

Engineers are considering two possible routes for the new line.

One would parallel Larkin Road from its intersection with Virginia Beach Boulevard to the pumping station in Cavalier Shores. The second would parallel Larkin Road to its intersection with Great Neck Road, turning north along that route and passing through Alanton, crossing Linton Bay and emerging in the sanitation district through Bay Colony.

In order to acquiescent residents of the area with the mechanics of the referendum, the proposed routes of the new mains and the approximate cost, Etheridge said a public meeting will be held at the Virginia Beach High School.

At that time engineers and members of the commission, headed by C. A. Mowry, will be on hand to discuss the matter and to answer questions.

The work will be undertaken by the commission, which was appointed two years ago. At that time no action was taken toward constructing new lines because arrangements were made to tap an Army main leading

Junior Women Work on 'Home' Expansion Project

One of the main projects of the Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club during the past year has been the Boy's Home in Covington, Va. Selected in 1942 as the state project for all Junior clubs, Boy's Home purpose is to raise and educate boys from broken homes from every community in the state, regardless of creed, nationality and place of residence.

The Princess Anne club adopted the club for the 72 boys at the Home, along with the other clubs in the state. During the past year the club has been Santa at Christmas and remembered the boy at other occasions, such as his birthday, Valentine Day, and others.

Since its beginning in 1903, operation of Boy's Home has been dependent financially upon the good will and interest of others in its character-building program. At present the facilities are very inadequate for the 72 boys and a long waiting list exists of youths in need of care.

The Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club is working now in conjunction with the Home's expansion program. A contribution was made by each club to replace needed equipment this year. A program is in existence now for the construction of eight new cottages, an infirmary, a dining hall, recreational buildings, and a vocational building.

In the past necessary funds have been donated by church groups, civic clubs and some individuals. Now, however, the board of trustees is sending speakers throughout the state to show pictures and tell the story of the service of the Home.

Already, the Princess Anne club has had as a guest speaker, Col. P. W. Lewis, chairman of the development committee for Boy's Home. He emphasized the tremendous work that the Home is doing to strengthen boys who have had poor luck in their formative years. Although the Home is jointly owned by the Dioceses of Southwestern and Southern Virginia, Col. Lewis stated that a large portion of the operating expenses come from friends and outside sources. A $62,000 budget is needed to run the Home adequately.

Col. Lewis pointed out that life at Boy's Home differs very little from the average youth's life, with the boys attending Covington public schools and participating in the athletic programs of the schools.

Miss Jean Baldwin, Youth Conservation chairman for the Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club, commented.

BOARD ASKS END OF RENT LIMITS HERE

The Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Rent Advisory Board has recommended that rent controls be removed in the county and city, Mrs. Wallace Clark, chairman, announced this week.

At a recent meeting of the joint county and city board, a resolution was adopted asking the national Rent Advisory Board to remove controls in this area "which are no longer needed."

The action came about, Mrs. Clark said, when the results of a survey made by the Virginia Beach Real estate Board were disclosed to the control body.

The survey disclosed, the board chairman said, that 206 rental vacancies exist in the area under the board's jurisdiction. Of this number the greatest portion rent for less than $100 per month on a year round basis.

"The board felt," the chairman said, "that there is an adequate number of accommodations available in all price ranges. Assuming that rent controls are to prevent excessive rents, and accommodations at present levels, it is reasonable to assume that there will be no increase in rent prices when the controls are removed."

South Norfolk's board is asking for an extension of controls and in indications are that a similar move will be made by the boards of cities on the peninsula. Decisions from the boards of Norfolk and Portsmouth are pending and are expected to be announced this week.

In addition to Mrs. Clark, the board comprises C. T. Whitehead, who is vice-chairman; J. E. Winslow, Cecil H. Reed, Mrs. Marion Ames, J. R. Addenbrook and J. C. Jackson.

AIR CHIEF VISITS OCEANA

Back again to the Oceana Naval Air Station came the Secretary of the Navy for Air, John Floberg, on Saturday, March 7, for advanced training on flying the AD-1. Secretary Floberg flew down to Oceana in his SN-1 from Anacostia. He has flown just about every type plane in the Navy and has been receiving training in the flying of this AD-1 in preparation for a carrier landing soon in this type of plane. On hand to greet the Secretary was Captain W. S. Butts, commanding officer of the Air Station, and the Secretary's instructor, Lt. Comdr. J. W. Williams, U. S. N.

One-Two Punch Aimed at Plant Ailments by Agriculture Dept.

The State Department of Agriculture now is authorizing manufacturers to mix the insecticide aldrin with fertilizer, in Virginia's first such one-two punch at plant ailments.

Eastern Virginia farmers, particularly peanut growers, have been using aldrin separately against the Southern corn root worm and so boosting yields as much as 300 percent on heavily infested soils.

The new department order allows aldrin to be mixed with fertilizer in a certain proportion so that farmers can apply both in one field operation.

The mixture is approved only for eight pounds of aldrin to the ton and only for peanuts. The approval follows recommendations of Virginia's Experiment Stations.

That way, the fertilizer makes the peanuts grow and the insecticide kills worm grubs as they feed through the soil for plant roots.

The department has held up the mixture under the State's fertilizer and insecticide laws until the Experiment Station had time to make thorough tests.

In other states, some other insecticides have been used before in such tests, and millions of dollars worth of damage to crops and soils results.

The Experiment Station had to make sure that the fertilizer would not break down the insecticide, and that the aldrin would kill the harmful bugs, but would not injure helpful soil bacteria.

The Station also had to find whether the mixture would injure other crops growing in the field, and finally, whether it would give the finished peanuts butter or candy any "off" flavor.

To help keep farmers from damaging their crops by departing from Experiment Station recommendations, the Department is making manufacturers put directions on the labels.

Labels must say that the mixture should be used at the rate of 500 pounds to the acre immediately before first cultivation of peanuts, and should not be used for any other purpose.

They must also carry the usual warning to users against the toxic effects of insecticides.

SIDNEY KELLAM TO HEAD CAMPAIGN FOR STANLEY

Drive Progressing Well; Red Cross First Totals Top '52

At the end of the first week of the 1953 fund raising campaign, officials of the Princess Anne County Chapter, American Red Cross, are announcing that current contributions so far are exceeding the amount received at this same period of the 1952 drive. H. A. Holt, Jr., chairman of this year's campaign, said that already far over $1,000 has been received toward the $18,000 quota. Of the amount received early this week about $400 has come from Mrs. Fred S. Perkins' residence workers; $300 has come from Al Mathies' special gifts division, and Henry G. Moore's business section has turned in over $400.

The first solicitor to complete his assigned area was William H. Farnstone, director of the Virginia Beach Permanent Youth Committee. Farnstone has always been among the first to complete his work in the campaigns of the past four years, but this year marks the first time he has been the earliest with a complete report.

Sidney S. Kellam, of Virginia Beach, head of the State Department of Conservation and Development, resigned that position this week and was immediately named to succeed the campaign of former Representative Thomas B. Stanley in his bid for the governorship of Virginia.

Kellam resigned his high State post in a letter to Governor Battle dated March 3. Governor Battle announced his acceptance of the resignation with "deep regret," and appointed Raymond V. Long as acting director of the department.

In accepting the resignation, the Governor praised the work of Kellam, and the conscientious, able service he has rendered the State.

Kellam successfully directed the State-wide campaign that landed John Stewart Battle in the Governor's Mansion in 1949. He is a former treasurer of Princess Anne County.

In announcing Kellam's appointment as campaign manager, Stanley declared "his experience as a successful manager in a former State-wide campaign eminently qualified him for this most important post in my campaign."

In his letter of resignation, Kellam expressed "reluctance to leave the post."

"My sincere interest in the maintenance of the high culture of public service which you and your predecessors have provided is responsible for my action," Kellam wrote the Governor.

Long, who succeeds Kellam, has been connected with the State Department of Conservation and Development since 1948. Before that he was director of the State Planning Board.

Stanley's headquarters also announced that Cumberland County Clerk R. H. Blanton had been named county manager in that county last week.

Kellam's action came as a surprise to all but a few of his most intimate associates, but local as well as State wide opinion was expressed that he was the "man for the job."

Civitan Contest Judges Chosen

Keneth R. Clair, committee chairman for the Civitan Citizenship Essay contest, open to all senior students of the Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach High Schools, announces that Dr. W. G. Bond of the Virginia Beach Baptist Church, Claiborne E. Bryant of the National Bank of Commerce, and Mrs. Fred S. Perkins of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, have been selected as the official judges to determine the three winning essays.

Information pertaining to the contest has been placed in the hands of all principals of the high schools, and any senior student desiring to enter should contact the principal of his school.

Closing date for the contest is March 31, and the first three best cash prizes are $15, $25 and $15, and a diploma. The winner will receive a medal from Civitan International.

Mrs. Fred Perkins Elected President Woman's Club

Mrs. Fred S. Perkins was elected president of the Princess Anne County Woman's Club at a meeting of that organization held recently at the Pine Tree Inn.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. R. H. Owens, first vice-president; Mrs. James Darden, second vice-president; Mrs. Cecil Reid, third vice-president; Mrs. Robert J. Stainback, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry F. Ames, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. H. E. Halstead, treasurer.

Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Halstead were chosen to represent the club at the Tidewater District Institute to be held at the Chamberlain Hotel, Old Point, on March 24.

A report on the recent Club Institute held March 3, was made by Mrs. Kermit Laid, Institute chairman.

One of the features of the meeting was a review of the book, "The Gull-lean," given by Mrs. LeRoy Ober, who was presented by Mrs. Robert V. Tynes and Mrs. W. C. Everett.

Mrs. K. L. Judd, Music chairman, introduced Mrs. Merle Hershey, who favored with several vocal selections.

Bayville Farms Cow Tops in Tests

A registered Guernsey cow, Silco King's Louise, owned by Bayville Farms, Inc., put 12,969 pounds of milk and 663 pounds of butterfat into the county's breadbasket. This is according to the official Advanced Registry record released by the American Guernsey Cattle Club. "Louise" was a six year-old and was milked three times daily for 365 days.

Guernsey cows on official tests have steadily increased production over the years. The average cow in the United States produces only about one half as much as the average purebred Guernsey on official test.

The sire of "Louise" is Ruayne King's Chief. Six daughters of this bull are listed in the Performance Register of the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

This record was supervised by Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Increase in Deaths of Servicemen Dark Spot on State Fatality Record

Despite an overall decrease in the number of deaths on Virginia's highways in 1952, and that in the face of vastly increased motor mileage, one dark spot was evident, according to Col. C. W. Woodson, Jr., Superintendent of State Police and Executive Director of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

While the total of Virginia highway deaths dropped 19 from the 999 of 1951, to 960 last year, the number of servicemen killed rose from 84 to 127, to present a grave problem both to local officials and military authorities.

The overall improvement, Woodson stated, was achieved in the face of a rise of about seven per cent in traffic volume and brought a substantial reduction in the state's mileage death rate, which sunk from the 9.4 of 1951 to a tentative 8.1 for 1952. (Continued on Page Two)

The class sold a total of $475.25 in subscriptions in the contest. Mrs. Charles Henderson is the class teacher.

BEACH HIGH NEWS

SPOTLIGHT CLUB PRESENTS PLAY

"Quiet Please", a comedy in one act, was presented to the student body of the Virginia Beach High School at the March 6 assembly program by members of the Spotlight Club. The play will be entered in the district competition to be held at the Blair Junior High School this week.

The play concerns two brothers of the Ozark mountains. The plot revokes the difficulties in which they become involved because they refuse to speak to each other as the result of a quarrel of some year's standing.

David Betts and Judd White starred as the two brothers. Also starred was Clavone McGrath, playing the part of a social worker. These three main characters were ably assisted by George Aldridge, Lucy Christman, Julia Vankos and Cynthia Kirk.

Miss Martha Carr and J. Allen Tyler are co-sponsors of the Spotlight Club and directors of the play.

MISS HOGGE'S CLASS STUDIES SOLAR SYSTEM

Miss Catherine Hogge's seventh grade has studied the solar system in their class as their science project. They have made posters to illustrate lessons, and each student has given an oral report on one of the 9 planets. The class has seen several movies and film strips about the solar system.

SEVENTH GRADERS WRITING PLAY

The seventh grade class of Mrs. Reid Dinges, Jr., has been engaged in writing a play which will be presented as a part of one of the future meetings of the elementary Student Cooperative Association. The plot of the play concerns the problems of teachers thinking their students are studying when, in reality, they are watching television. The play will feature skits based on television programs.

CLASS DEBATES SEGREGATION ISSUE

Mrs. Dinges's class recently held a debate on "Whether or Not We Should Have Segregation in Our Schools." Each member of the class prepared a paper on a religion, which were read as an observance of National Brotherhood Week.

CIVIL WAR SUBJECT OF CLASS STUDY

Sixth Grade Studies Civil War Miss Rebecca Hooper's class has studied the Civil War in history. The students have used library research in preparation for oral reports and booklets on the subject. ## Stars Are Singing' Pleasing Musical

The story of a refugee has been woven into a bright musical comedy, "The Stars Are Singing," a Paramount release.

The cast includes such stars as Rosemary Clooney, Lauritz Melchior, Anna Maria Alberghetti, Bob Williams, Eva Wilson and Lloyd Corrigan. The feature was directed by Norman Taurog, another top name in filmland.

In the story, Clooney sees in the Polish refugee Alberghetti a chance for her and several friends to get into the "big time" show business. She wants to sell Melchior, an old time Met singer and Williams, owner of a dog act, as a "package." But about Alberghetti, the deal is off. The story is not too serious, despite the intricacies of the plot, and is an excellent vehicle for the talents of both Clooney and Alberghetti, and is the framework for many wonderful songs.

The new establishment will feature infant wear as well as boys' and girls' clothing.

DRAMATICS CLUB TO PRESENT ONE-ACT PLAY

The Dramatics Club of the Virginia Beach High School received a distinguished rating in the district one-act play festival held this week in Norfolk.

The club is now eligible to compete in the State meeting at Charlottesville later in the year.

It is estimated that 60 million Americans use automobiles to get to and from work and school daily.

Spring Safety Hint: 'Be Careful' Applies to Drivers, Pedestrians

Pedestrians and motorists should be extra alert in rainy weather, John B. Dey, vice president of the Tidewater Automobile Association, advised this week as an early spring safety hint. Local school teachers are being supplied with a kit of AAA safety education materials emphasizing this alertness in rain time in order to combat the higher frequency of traffic accidents on rainy days.

"Traffic dangers increase during wet weather because of several factors," Mr. Dey explained. "The driver's visibility is cut considerably by rain and his ability to spot pedestrians is reduced because most rain apparel is dark colored. Skidding is also more likely on wet roadways."

"The pedestrian often endangers himself by obstructing his vision with tipped umbrellas and with rain boots which are like blinders and cut off side vision."

Mr. Dey recommended that motorists reduce speed, particularly at school crossings, in wet weather, and watch constantly for pedestrians as well as other vehicles. To pedestrians—young and old—he had the following advice:

BE EXTRA ALERT ON RAINY DAYS

WINNER EIGHTH NATIONAL TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

1. Never hold an umbrella so that it obstructs your view, both in front of you and on either side.

2. Keep in mind that it is more difficult for the motorist to see you, and never depend on him to slow down or stop when you are crossing a street.

Herzer Concert Will be Second Performance Here

The Cavalier Garden Club is preparing for the second time the well-known concert pianist, Clifford Herzer, in a recital Monday afternoon, March 20, at 3:30 p.m. in the ballroom of the Cavalier Hotel.

There have been many requests for return engagement of this brilliant pianist, a spokesman for the club said this week, as his distinguished performance a year ago at the Cavalier left the large audience really impressed with his artistry.

Since then, Mr. Herzer has given a concert at Penney, Mich., has appeared with the Feldman string quartet, playing the Brahms Quintet for piano and strings, and played to a large and discriminating audience at the Museum of Arts in Norfolk, under the auspices of the Junior committee.

For his Virginia Beach concert, Mr. Herzer has chosen an all-Brahms program, which will please most music lovers, opening with an air of Leonardo da Vinci. The program contains works by Mendelssohn, Schubert, Chopin and Liszt.

The famous Mephisto Waltz will close the recital. The scene for the waltz is laid in the Inn of the village and Mephisto, in the guise of a hunter, arrives with Faust. Faust is captivated by a beautiful young girl, Mephisto is bored by the music of the waltz, seizes the violin and draws from it passionate and sprightly music. A wild bacchanale follows. However, Faust succeeds in drawing the maiden away. Suddenly a nightingale is heard, and the enraptured couple cease their dancing, quelled in a wave of rapture, while in the distance the devilish dance continues.

Mr. Herzer will again bring his famous Josef Hoffman Steinway, as he did last year.

Proceeds from the concert will go toward the planting of one block of the beautification project on North Atlantic Avenue.

3. Obey all safe walking rules, but be particularly alert when it is raining.

A "hooker," "Be Extra Alert on Rainy Days," will aid teachers in impressing students of the need for caution. It was drawn by Kirk Rixson, Washington High School, Massillon, Ohio, and was a prize-winning entry in the 8th national AAA School Safety Poster contest.

WORST YET TO COME
America's highway system has proved completely inadequate to handle the 53 million motor vehicles now on our roads—yet experts predict the nation will have 80 million cars by 1975.

Farm Demonstration Idea First Advanced in U.S. 50 Years Ago

The Agricultural Extension Service of VPI joins 47 other state services the nation over in celebrating this year the 50th anniversary of the movement which began as farm demonstration work.

From the demonstration idea grew "boys corn clubs," "girls canning clubs," home demonstration work, and many related developments all along the 50-year road to better farming and better rural living.

The clubs for boys and girls are now known as 4-H clubs, with a membership nationwide of more than 2,100,000 and in Virginia of 59,000. The home demonstration clubs now have a state and nation organization, the 40,000 rural women in Virginia making part of the national total of 1,500,000 members. Then, too, there are hundreds of farm commodity organizations, local state-wide and national, many of which the Extension Service helped originate and which continue to look to their land-grant colleges for help and guidance.

February 26, 1903, Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, a New Englander by birth and an Iowa by adoption, a scholar in mind and a farmer at heart, with his missionary zeal, demonstrated to Texas cotton farmers how science could help them lick the first devastating outbreak of boll weevil.

In the years that followed, with the help of the General Education Board, a Rockefeller institution, Dr. Knapp earned the title of "Father of Extension Work" by selling his "learning by seeing" idea to farmers and educators throughout the South.

At the suggestion of Dr. H. B. Frissell, principal of Hampton Institute, and at the invitation of Dr. J. D. Eggeston, then state superintendent of public instruction, Dr. Knapp met late in 1906 with leading educators and farmers in Virginia.

Dr. Frissell's interest in the demonstration method is reflected in the fact that a negro worker, J. B. Penco, of Hampton, was appointed as an agent in 1906, the second such appointment in the South.

Farm Demonstration

In 1907 the General Education Board appropriated $4,500 for support of demonstration work in Virginia and T. O. Sandy, of Burkeville, who had attended the 1906 meeting, was made a traveling agent to establish the program in three counties.

Three county or area agents were chosen to help him—Southall Farrar in Nottingham, J. T. Oliver in Buckingham, and J. J. Gilliam in Prince Edward. In Sandy's report of 1908,

S. P. Spain was named as agent in Lunenburg.

By 1909 his report tells of 24 agents, most of them part-time, and 666 "cooperators" with more than 600 demonstrations. Meanwhile the State Legislature of 1908 had appropriated $3,000 to the fast-growing educational program. Mr. Farrar earned the title of "Father of 4-H Club Work in Virginia" by organizing boys corn clubs in Dinwiddie and Chesterfield Counties. Using "scientific methods," most of Farrar's 100 boys made better than 75 bushels of corn to the acre and not a few made more than 100 bushels. Average production in 1909 was less than 20 bushels per acre.

Miss Ella Agnew was made state agent in charge of "girls' canning clubs," or "tomato clubs," a sister institution which grew rapidly, along with the boys' work, to become the 4-H program. Miss Agnew began her work in Southside Virginia in July, 1919. Under her in 1911 were Demonstration Agents Ithalee I. Hughes in Nottingham, Sadie Terry in Halifax, and Lucy Cleaton in Dinwiddie.

FIRST SPOOL THREAD

In 1794, the same year that Eli Whitney gave the world the cotton gin, another American, Mrs. Samuel Slater, introduced spool cotton to the universe. While spinning Sea Island cotton, she noticed that it produced an even, beautiful yarn. That same year her husband began manufacturing cotton sewing thread.

The average life expectancy at birth of two-thirds of the world's people is no more than 30 years, compared to 60 years or more in the advanced countries.

Land & Coates Now 'Case' Dealer

"It's surprising," said a spokesman for Land and Coates, Inc., dealers in farm machinery and equipment, "how many people think of us when they want to buy heavy farm machinery, such as tractors, and never seem to remember that we also handle a multitude of small equipment not only for the farmer, but for the average householder as well."

The company, long located on the Virginia Beach Boulevard just over the county line opposite Broad Creek Valley, was this week made the official franchised dealer for Case farm machinery which means that they now represent and have on hand equipment of all types and kinds for every farm need.

Developing the theme that so few realize the complete lines they have in stock, the company representative said, "If folks would stop in when they are driving by on their way to or from Norfolk, and look around, they would soon realize that while equipment such as tractors we have plenty, we also have lawn mowers and the other knock-knocks that go to make happier and easier farming and gardening, and landscaping, too. We've got a big parking lot in front of our place, to invite your readers to stop in and get acquainted—whether they want to buy or not. We are out to make more friends all the time."

The company stocks all types of motor and small equipment—and declares they have something every body needs around the home or farm, but that too many don't realize it until they stop by.

Heart disease is still America's No. 1 killer.

Many bicycle racers are also good skaters.

Cmdr. Robertson In Sub Exercise

Participating last week in the first NATO anti-submarine exercise OPERATION BUFFET aboard the destroyer USS LOWRY was Navy Lt. Cdr. Horace L. Robertson, husband of Mrs. Argonia G. Robertson of 6802 Atlantic Ave., Virginia Beach.

The LOWRY was one of six Atlantic Fleet ships—that took part in maneuvers involving naval units of Canada, the Netherlands and the United States.

The exercise provided operational and technical training in anti-submarine warfare for the NATO anti-submarine forces in the Western Atlantic area.

IT'S FUN TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK

Food Editor

For "Let's Cook" every Monday through Friday at 12:45 on WTAR-TV

LENTEN MEAL HINTS

Today I want to talk about foods for the Lenten season. Even though your family may not like changes in the menu during Lent, I think you can keep them happy with some real good menu ideas that I want to share with you today.

Two foods are especially dependable standbys—macaroni and meat. You probably have a number of recipes using these two foods which your family truly enjoy but, if you're like me, you don't get nearly as many varieties of these as you'd like. I always enjoy trying out a new recipe . . . and when the family enjoys the new recipe, I enjoy it even more. Don't your family love surprises? Try out new ideas and see how much fun it really is!

Macaroni foods—and that includes spaghetti and noodles as well as macaroni—are liked by all ages. This group of foods is one of the thriftiest you'll ever become acquainted with. Economy is pretty important—really important just now when you are trying to squeeze a new Easter outfit "into" or rather "out" of the budget.

Have you acquired that habit of keeping macaroni products on the pantry shelf all the time. For the emergency meal they are wonderful as well as all the wonderful meals you plan and use them in. One member of the family that we don't use too often is French-fried noodles. You can buy them in a can—you know that—but you can fry them yourself. Just place a few in the bottom of a wire strainer and fry in deep, hot fat. It will take only two or three minutes. Choose the very fine noodles for French-frying.

Use these French-fried noodles as a base for all sorts of creamed macaroni—shrimp, tuna, salmon, crab.

Merry Matrons

• Mrs. F. C. Manfield, Mrs. J. C. Addington, Mrs. Elizabeth Bender, Mrs. E. B. Crichtfield, Mrs. Frank Sokolowski and Mrs. Jean Baldwin will be a half dozen local merry matrons modeling high fashion styles from Florence Wilton's during the second YWCA Merry Matrons Fashion Clinic today at 11:30 o'clock in the Virginia Beach Community House. Analyzing figure problems of matrons attending will be one of the features of the mid-morning session. (Virginia Beach matrons are invited to attend.) Mrs. F. Ray Shields is the local organizer for the Norfolk YWCA series and your Albeebe conducts the clinic.

• Mrs. J. C. Addington, just returned from Macaroni on the Key in Florida, attributes the increase in her sales to plenty of Key lime pie and Mrs. Jeff Wagner, after her Mexican sojourn, is the envy of her guests when she serves an avocado, bacon, cheese and green Mexican salad these days.

• When Judge J. Davis Reed, Jr., and his wife were in New Orleans during Mardi Gras time they attended two balls. Mrs. Reed's delicious ball gown of pink and white with jeweled giant train ball trim is a feast for feminine eyes.

• Mrs. Birdie Harding is having such fun with friends in Miami it is more than likely she'll not leave Miami's shores until just in time to open her Atlantic hotel for the Easter tourists.

• Mrs. Otha Waterfield's family is growing what with the return of her son from Korea and the addition of two lively canines, a Mexican chihuahua and a toy Manchester scampering about.

• Mrs. Cecil Reid is one of the most quiet yet one of the most sure-to-get-it-done workers in the Women's Club. A valuable worker.

• Mrs. June McCorbore, Willis' interior decorator, has a decorating thumb comparable to the Sea Breeze Farm Sisters' green thumbs, she's that good!

meat—all are suitable and so good. If you use cream sauce, green peppers, pimientos, olives, bits of onion and celery all lend flavor to your sauce. You can use cream soups as sauce for many of your recipes. I'm sure you'll agree the recipe I'm going to give you now is different. I think you'll like it, though.

In a deep frying pan melt three tablespoons butter or margarine, then add and cook for five minutes, stirring often: 1 green pepper cut in strips; 1 cup celery cut medium. Then add 1 can pineapple chunks (drain and save juice). Continue to cook for five more minutes, then add 2 teaspoons soy sauce, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, and 1 cup chicken broth and the pineapple juice mixed with 3 tablespoons cornstarch. Stir in quickly and when mixture is clear, add 1 1/2 cups of macaroni. Serve over French-fried noodles. This is called "Sweet and Sour Tuna."

Here's another good and tasty Lenten dish: "Macaroni Ring with Creamed Salmon."

To make the macaroni ring, cook 1 1/2 cup macaroni in boiling salted water, drain.
Beat 2 eggs, add 1 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon parsley flakes, 1-4 cup chopped pimiento, 1 cup diced American cheese, 1 tablespoon minced onion and 1 cup soft bread crumbs and mix well with drained macaroni. Bake in greased ring pan in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 40 minutes. Unmold and fill with creamed salmon, which you prepare as follows:
Saute 1 medium sized onion, 1-2 green pepper, 1-2 cup chopped celery in 4 tablespoons butter or margarine until onion is clear, about five minutes. Add 1 can cream of mushroom soup, 2-3 cup top milk and mix thoroughly. Cook about 8 minutes. Lastly add one can salmon that you have broken carefully in medium sized pieces, and from which you have, of course, removed all the bones. Be very careful when mixing salmon and sauce. Cook slowly 10 minutes or until salmon mixture is piping hot. Fill macaroni ring and garnish with shredded cheese.
Hope you like it. Bye, now!

EVERYTHING THAT'S FIT FOR PRINT

Paris has done it again! Everyone from New York's Fifth Avenue to San Francisco's Market Street is buzzing about the most recent fashion news from Paris. In the Paris Haute Couture collection, the most famous of the world's fashion showings, nearly three-fourths of all the fashions are prints. Exciting new print designs make up 85 per cent of the afternoon and cocktail dresses and nearly half of the evening gowns and stunner prints, too. The effect of this sweeping print return is, of course, vitally important upon our own fashions.

The most famous fashion designers are using prints this Spring and they include: Christian Dior, Jacques Fath, Nina Ricci, Jean Patou and Erika Schiaparelli, and they're styling prints for round the clock wear.

French designers are using prints of twill, taffeta, satin, fine cottons and especially new are the rayon ribbed or honeycombed print fabrics.

Parisian evening gowns fall into two general groupings: The bouffant print gown, favoring a flat skirt in front and a full-sweeping back; the taffeta and heavier crepe print gown, which is styled in slim, slender lines. There are closely grouped all-over

• If there is anyone who can really wear a big hat in the Easter parade it's Mrs. William Meredith, who is tall and sylve enough to carry it off.

• Matron's Hat Memo: Accent your best features and complete your Spring costumes by choosing hats of the most becoming color for your type. Save your high-style hats for occasions when you want to make an "impression" or "grand entrance" at luncheons and so on. Off-the-face picture hats or small trimmed creations are good for after-five wear.

and if you wear glasses, accent them with small or large offset, very face hats, avoiding all flat brims. Happy hat hunting 'til next week!

(Norfolk; unusual etched fabric prints; brilliant wall paper prints, most often with huge roses; irregular spotted dots, with truly stunning spots and dots; then there are natural, life-size flowers and also provocative paint-brush stroke prints. So take your choice, but be smartest in the new prints!)

JACQUES FATH TREND

Jacques Fath's suits and coats have the narrow shoulders with sleeves set in below the shoulder line. His suit skirts are narrow and are fourteen or fifteen inches from the floor. Many of his short straight dress dresses are in lace or crepe and are beautifully encrusted with jewels and bugle beads. Many of his gale dresses, especially the beige or grey ones, are exquisitely decorated with static embroideries. Fath's large capeline hats are most elegant with showers of ostrich feathers placed right under the broad brims.

MAID OF COTTON TIPS

Alice Carr, 1531 Maid of Cotton, is enroute showing women everywhere what's new in cottons—the carrying 22 pieces of luggage on her thrilling 65,000 mile tour of three continents. One of her travel costumes is of tattered cotton twill, a dress and jacket ensemble, really. The jacket is designed in homespun plaid cotton. The simple sheath dress is in an iridescent plain color that harmonizes with her travel costume.

Claire McCordell designed another one of Alice's traveling outfits. Versatile cotton denim of sand and charcoal combination. The shirt is slim and the body jacket tapers to hips. A slender skirt with wide stitching to emphasize the jacket lines. Adele Simpson's cotton shirt-dress, tucked all around dress. A U-neckline, the briefest of sleeves, a flaring skirt with what Miss Simpson calls "deliberate fullness." Very breathtaking for this Southern summer to show off!

Pungo HD Club Sees Film on Atomic Bombing

Films showing the results of an atomic bombing attack and measures necessary to preserve life during and after such a catastrophe were witnessed by members of the Pungo Home Demonstration Club, meeting in the home of Mrs. Frank Malbone last Thursday night.

Mrs. Virginia McClanahan, president, presided and introduced the club's guests, Mrs. Mildred M. Darby, County Committee Chairman, and Ivan D. Mapp, Civilian Defense Coordinator for Princess Anne County, who showed the films on the atomic blast.

Mrs. Mapp also told of the Civilian Defense setup in the county, naming the various departments and the different types of work they did. He stressed the urgent need for a well-organized, well-prepared group to be prepared to function at an instant's notice. "The many military bases in this locality make us a prime target for an enemy attack," he declared, adding that there is a place in the Civilian Defense program for everyone. He told of the need for messengers, nurses' aides, and first aid workers—all types of jobs open to women—and the need for emergency help in preparing and serving food in any disaster area.

The club plans to train its members either as first aid workers or as nurses' aides, and training in one of these classes of work will be begun within the next month. Some of the club's membership already are qualified workers in one or both of these classifications.

Mrs. Darby addressed the club briefly and stressed the importance of keeping their yearbooks complete and up to date. She also announced that the District meeting this year will be held at Drivers, Va., on May 7th.

Etheridge Asks Public Opinion on On Liberalizing State Liquor Law

Would you like a voice in the current study that is being made of State alcoholic beverage laws? State Senator V. Alfred Etheridge is seeking comments from residents of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. He will take them to Richmond on March 27 when he appears before a committee making the study to ask that it hold a public hearing at Virginia Beach.

The commission is seeking to determine whether or not the State's liquor laws should be liberalized. Etheridge, who is chairman of the committee, said that if a need was shown other hearings would be held throughout the State.

Because many hotel people and operators of other tourist accommodations have expressed a desire to liberalize the present laws in order to meet stiff competition from resorts to the north and south, Etheridge will seek the local hearing.

To do so, however, he needs proof—that the hearing is needed in the form of comments, either pro or con, from residents of the area.

Committee Places Beach Advertising; City Council Appropriates Ad Funds

The advertising committee of the Chamber of Commerce has $10,000 with which to launch its new advertising campaign, a contract for which was awarded to Ferguson and Kennedy advertising agency of Norfolk and the Laura Lambie agency of Virginia Beach last week.

Monday night, the city council approved an ordinance setting aside that sum for the payment of advertising vouchers approved by the chamber's advertising committee, which was selected by four men appointed jointly by the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce, will place advertising and then certify the bills to the city treasurer for payment of city vouchers.

The committee recently selected one of four presentations made for this summer's advertising. The one selected carries out a theme of "The Blue Atlantic Kisses a new $1,000,000 Strand." It employs the use of newspaper advertising, television films, and such gimmicks as salt water kisses and sand buckets in travel agency promotion.

County Police Raid Club on Opening Night

135 "Show-of-Month" Club Patrons, Employees Bonded

The Princess Anne County Police, continuing its crack-down on county night spots, this week arrested 135 people at the opening night celebration of the "Show-of-the-Month Club" in the Chateau Marlin on a quiet creek road near the Norfolk county boundary.

The defendants, including the club's operator, hired help and patrons, were given a preliminary hearing in the County Trial Justice Court tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

The surprise raid was conducted by County Police Chief James E. Moore and ten county policemen. Four justices of the peace accompanied the raiding party and bonded those arrested "on the spot."

Larry Kent, the operator, was charged with violating Title 4, Section 61, of the Code of Virginia, which prohibits the keeping of whiskey in an establishment operated as a restaurant, and for operating a common nuisance.

His bond was set at $500. The club's waitresses, members of the orchestra, kitchen help and two parking lot attendants were arrested on charges of aiding and abetting the operation of a common nuisance.

Two of the patrons, whom Chief Moore said "gave several of the boys a hard time," were charged with disturbing the peace as well as with frequenting a common nuisance, with which all of the patrons were charged.

Bonds for those arrested were posted by Charles Cohen, chairman of the club's board of directors. "Moore said that the raid, and arrests, were made on the assumption that the club was being operated as a restaurant. He said food was being served to the patrons. A number of bottles of whiskey were confiscated in the raid."

Kent, the police said, maintained that the club was chartered by the State for the purpose of dancing, and that entrance was denied to all but members.

On the other hand, Etheridge disclosed that he had also received comments opposing any change in the present laws, and in opposition to any move to sell whiskey over the bar in Virginia.

The commission's findings will be taken back to the legislature for appropriate action.

Demoneers Leave To Play in National Tournament

The two time State Champion Demoneers, local girls basketball team will leave for the National Tournament in Wichita, Kansas on Thursday night, March 26.

This will mark the second year that the local sextette has represented the State of Virginia in the midwest event and only the second time in AAU history that Virginia has had a representative.

The Demoneers wrapped up their second successive State Crown in the recent State Tournament played here at Virginia Beach when they turned back the Glenn Jordan team of Richmond 44-29 in the finals.

Last year when the locals went to the National Tournament it was on very short notice and came at a time when the Virginia Beach ladies had only played about five games under the faster AAU style of play. They hadn't touched a ball since the state tournament three weeks prior to the national event.

The team arrived in Wichita to find themselves matched against one of the five top teams in the tourney from Mississippi. This team went on to the finals only to be set back by Hanes the eventual winner. In the local's second game in the consolation bracket, the Demoneers won from Atlanta who went on to win the Consolation Championship. This year the laundry queens are hoping that the first competition will not be so strong, however, they feel that they are going to be in better shape with more time to get ready for the big affair, and they are planning to represent Virginia in the best of fashion.

C. Leonard Fisher, the team's sponsor, and John Tucker the coach will accompany the team to Wichita.

OCEANA GIRL SCOUTS NEED ASSISTANT LEADER

The Oceana Girl Scouts are anxious to secure an assistant scout leader, according to Mrs. Ann Little scout leader, who has issued a call to anyone interested.

Mrs. Little may be contacted by telephoning 2619.

TOP HONORS

Young Robert Nolan, above, son of Mrs. Margaret Nolan, of Virginia Beach, was recently awarded the Distinguished Honor Certificate at Augusta Military Academy.

The award is given for not having a single demerit during the school term.

The general enthusiasm of contributors throughout Princess Anne County is encouraging volunteer workers of the County's Chapter Red Cross fund drive to continue the record collections as the campaign entered its third week. Already one-third, approximately $6,000 of the $18,000 quota, has been collected according to H. A. Holt, campaign manager. To Mrs. Herman Bonney and her enthusiastic committee of Pungo district goes the credit of being the area's first to complete its work with $25 in excess of its $375 quota.

Red Cross Workers Enthusiastic Over Public Response

At the first report luncheon Monday at the Normandie Restaurant, it was revealed that the collections tip-toe date exceed those at the same period of last year's drive. Half-a-hundred workers attended the luncheon at which Holt presided. Guest speaker was T. A. Lockwood, field representative.

The next report luncheon is scheduled for next Monday when it is expected that several outlying districts will report their divisions completed.

Christmas Seal Founder Praises Fight on TB

Leigh Mitchell Hodges is the one survivor of the four founders of the Christmas Seal that has been called "the most powerful little piece of paper ever printed" because of its leading part in the continuing fight against tuberculosis which still takes infectious death-dealers.

In 1907, while a member of the editorial staff on the now defunct Philadelphia NORTH AMERICAN, he envisioned the possibilities of this cheery messenger to spread the news that the dread "White Plague" could be cured and prevented—facts generally doubted—and launched a publicity campaign that paved the way to the present nationwide effort to conquer this subtle foe.

Mr. Hodges, born in Denver, has had a distinguished career as writer and lecturer. His newspaper column, "The Optimist," now in its 52nd year and appearing in the Philadelphia "Evening Bulletin," is the oldest of its kind under one author.

March 31 Set For Voting on 2 Bond Issues

Beach Work Completion and South-end Sewers on Ballots

The Virginia Beach City Council passed on second reading ordinances approving a $900,000 and $300,000 bond issue set for a vote on March 31 at its regular meeting the past Monday night.

The $900,000 issue would cover the rehabilitation of the waterfront while the smaller issue would provide additional sewerage facilities in the southwestern section of the city.

Council also approved action to lower electrical wiring inspection fees. The new rates will be $3 and $40 in place of the old rates of $4.50 and $5.

In other action council appropriated $10,000 to the Chamber of Commerce's advertising committee for immediate use. A balance of $20,000 is yet to be appropriated.

The Virginia Beach Pier and Amusement Corporation was given the go-ahead on an application to have the pier repaired at the off-shore end of the pier that was damaged by a storm last winter.

Permission to the pier group had been held pending a conference between officials of the pier corporation and a committee from the council relative to improvements the city wants made at the facility.

Mayor P. F. Murray said that officials of the pier company had promised to make the necessary improvements.

The council also took under study a proposal that it supply water to a housing development adjacent to Pine Acres, and approved several minor reductions in the city's electrical inspection charges.

The council confirmed the city's plan to place city licenses on sale March 15 in order that the issuance of the Washington D. C. district of State license. The city tags may be obtained at City Hall or at Kellam and Eaton's Insurance Agency on 17th Street, where the County Treasurer's office has an employee stationed to sell State licenses to report residents.

Search for Cripples Made by Society

An extensive statewide search is now in progress. The Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults is asking the cooperation of all the people of Virginia in helping to locate crippled persons, particularly children, who are in need of specialized medical care and treatment, but who are believed to be without the means of providing for this service privately.

Dr. W. T. Sanger, President, Medical College of Virginia and State President of the Virginia Society, said today that organization is making an effort to locate these crippled persons. No one knows exactly how many such persons are in the State, Dr. Sanger stated, but a fairly accurate inventory would help the Society immeasurably in its work.

The Society wants to know the name and address of such persons, both adults and children, in all sections of the State. Figures from the Society's files show that "at the 31,000 persons helped during the 10 years since its founding, 79 percent have been white and the remainder Negro."

Persons having this information should communicate it to the Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 1529 Williamson Road, Roanoke, Virginia.

Dr. Sanger, who is serving this year also as President of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults with which the Virginia Society is affiliated, called attention also to the annual Easter Seal campaign, through which the Society finances its year-round services to the handicapped.

The campaign is now in progress. Dr. Sanger said, and will end Sunday, April 5. The funds raised are apportioned so that 91.7 percent remains in the State to continue and expand services. The remaining 8.3 percent will go to the National Society to support the nationwide three-point program of research, education and direct services.

"All of us are deeply sympathetic over the plight of all crippled children, particularly children," Dr. Sanger said. "Many perhaps do not realize that as pressing as that problem is, there are additional social problems created by the crippled child, for which he is in no way responsible."

"Files of the Virginia Society indicate that a large number of the parents of crippled children are separated. In many such instances, the fathers just walk off and leave the family. Furthermore, because crippled children need so much extra care, normal children in the family are frequently neglected."

"Between 10 and 15 percent of the mothers of crippled children are dead. Many mothers frequently cannot stand up under the emotional and physical strain and die early. Sometimes a mother weighing only 100 pounds has the job of lifting her crippled child, weighing more than she does."

MILLION DOLLAR SCHOOL EXPANSION PLAN SOUGHT

KEMPSVILLE DISTRICT TO SEEK TWO ELEMENTARY BUILDINGS; CIVIC GROUPS ASK ADDITIONAL ROOMS

The Princess Anne County School Board will go before the County Board of Supervisors next Monday to request a bond issue totaling $940,000 for school construction in the Kempville District. It was learned as a result of the board's meeting last Monday.

Only the voters of the Kempville District will be asked to vote on the issue, which would be for the construction of two elementary schools at an estimated cost of one million dollars. The additional facilities would relieve overcrowded conditions in the present schools.

A delegation of civic league and civic club members were on hand to express the need for such additional facilities. They offered to lend assistance in seeing the bond issue through.

John B. Day, school board chairman, told the delegation that the board realized the need for the new facilities and predicted that the area would see an increase of some 500 in school population during the next 18 months.

The school problem is expected to be the first item on the Board of Supervisors' agenda.

Among the members of the delegation asking for the new schools were J. S. Dyer, the Thomas Corcoran, Thalia Civic League, who declared that "regardless of the cost, we must have the schools."

Other delegates included Roscoe Whitfield of the Kempville Lions Club, Mrs. L. L. Dillon, of the Princess Anne County Civic Council, representing eleven civic organizations.

Mrs. Alvin Rusty of the East Ocean View Civic League; John V. Ferris, of the Manassasville Baritone Club, together with representatives of the Kempville Women's Club, the East Ocean View Civic League, the Chesapeake Beach Women's Club, the Maple Hall Civic League, the Glenwood Home Demonstration Club, the Thoroughbred Home Demonstration Club, and several parent-teacher associations.

THE ROAD OF PROGRESS

Virginia Beach citizens accustomed to living in a thriving, progressive community will have an opportunity to write another chapter in the progress story of their city by voting the two bond issues at stake on March 31. Approval of the two issues will complete the waterfront restoration and will provide the needed additional sewerage to residents in the southwestern part of the city.

The $900,000 bond issue will complete the face-lifting job on Virginia Beach's ocean front with almost a new walkway and wall included in the work, and new handrails and seeding behind the walkway. Also included in this issue are the funds for the construction of two jetties at Rudee inlet to insure a future sand source for replenishment of the beach. This construction is the recommendation of consulting engineers to the Virginia Beach Erosion Commission.

The $300,000 issue is for the installation of sewer lines in south Virginia Beach. This is a continuation of a master plan of improvement adopted several years ago and is another step in bringing sewerage facilities to all residents of the city.

And what of the cost of such bond issues? This is the taxpayer's first concern. By and large the issues will not cost the local taxpayer a cent. Figures available at City Hall indicate that the $900,000 in bonds would be retired on income received from the city's special tax fund. There would be no change in present real estate, personal property or license fees. The monies used to retire these bonds would come from the pockets of the visitor or vacationist to Virginia Beach in the largest measure.

The amusement, hotel, cigarette and food tax levied less than two years ago will adequately handle the financial burden resulting from the bond issue.

It is interesting to note that since May 1, 1952, through March 17, 1953, a total of $173,299.66 has been collected from the special taxes. And, it must be remembered that all of the money, with the exception of a small amount, is collected from the tourist who visits us each summer.

Virginia Beach is in an enviable position in that it is able to issue $900,000 in bonds, retire them in a relatively short period of time, and not have the financial burden unduly borne by its taxpayers. Very few communities can make such improvements with no increase in local taxes.

WE DESERVE THE TRUTH

The charge of General James A. Van Fleet that "There has been a serious shortage of ammunition ever since I have been in Korea," has been "fully substantiated" by the Senate Armed Services Committee which has directed a subcommittee to investigate further and report on "the officials and conditions responsible for this situation of ammunition shortages."

In Seoul, General Maxwell D. Taylor, who succeeded Van Fleet, said flatly, "We have no shortages. We frequently don't use our entire allocations." And, in what might possibly be an effort to create a diversion, he went on to charge that the valiant, hard-fighting South Korean troops were not getting enough to eat. Some of the ROK's, he said, were going into the line from training "in what amounts to a state of malnutrition."

And in an address in Philadelphia, Senator Stuart Symington, (Dem.) of Missouri, former secretary of the Air Force, declared that if the people knew the truth about the bitter rivalries in the Pentagon, they would demand a "wholesale reorganization."

We would disagree with Senator Symington. We do not think the people need to know the truth in order to get up on their hind legs. It should be enough for them to know, as they should by now, that they are not getting the truth.

But we hope the Senator keeps firing away at the high command for the reforms which he says will get us "far more defense for far less money." And we hope that he, at least, has plenty of ammunition.—U.S. Press Association.

The Harry F. Byrd Plan, hatched in Virginia by State Senator Byrd, is spreading to Maryland. Passed in 1950, the original bill gave Virginia taxpayers an 11 percent rebate in 1951, and gave them back $6,000,000 in 1952. Under the plan, the legislature establishes a fixed spending program or budget. If and when taxes exceed this amount by ten per cent or more, the taxpayers are cut in on a rebate. The budget can't be boosted, or funds carried over.

Seems to us there are 46 other states it might spread to—until Hawaii makes it 47.

The best way—and the cheapest—to keep up with the Joneses is to take it easy for awhile and in a few years you'll meet them coming back.

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING

The Editor's Mail Box

TO MY FRIENDS:

Being a member of the Board of Directors of the Tidewater Heart Association, I have been asked to write some of my friends in Princess Anne County and solicit their financial aid for the local Association. Our goal for Princess Anne County is $3,000.00. This seems a modest sum when we consider that in 1951 ONE out of every TWO deaths in Virginia was caused by heart disease or its allied maladies. This fund will be used for a program of research, education, and community service.

Progress is being made. Lives of most "blue babies" are now saved. Drugs, which allow many people with coronary heart disease to continue nearly normal activity, and new techniques for the diagnosis of some forms of heart disease are a reality. Rheumatic fever deaths have been greatly reduced and researchers are nearer even greater discoveries.

Virginia Heart Association and its local Associations are placing emphasis on problems confronting the employment of persons with heart disease, development of occupational activities with homebound cardiacs, and, with assistance of local medical groups, are promoting diagnostic clinics for the indigent where needed. Educational programs for the general public, physicians and allied professional workers are to be expanded.

I realize the numerous demands upon us constantly. If, however, you consider your investment in living, I feel certain that you will wish to lend generous financial support to this worthy cause. Of all money raised 75 percent remains within the State. American Heart's share of 25 percent is devoted largely to research activities.

Please make your check payable to A. W. Craft, Jr., Treasurer, Bank of Virginia Beach, Virginia Beach, Va.

Help us save hearts—one at a time with your own.
With grateful appreciation.
Cordially yours,

CONTROLS AND BUDGET HEARINGS IN PROGRESS

Current hearings before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee on wage and price controls indicate a wide difference of opinion between consumer groups on the one hand and producers and distributors on the other. The consumers are fearful and want stand-by controls ready for use if there is a new threat of price inflation. Producers and distributors want to drop all laws on this subject now and not attempt to pass new ones until another world war has started.

World War II commenced for us when the Japanese struck Pearl Harbor in December 1941 but we had a peacetime draft in 1940 and were shifting to a war basis all during 1941. A bill to establish price and wage controls was introduced in August of 1941 but did not become law until January 1942 and was not operative until April 1942. Between the Pearl Harbor attack and the time the control law was passed, consumer prices already had gone up 12 percent.

Similarly, when the Korean War started in June of 1950 it took until January 1951 to put wage and price controls into effect and in that period consumer prices had gone up 8 percent. Actually, this figure is misleading, however, because wholesale prices had gone up in that seven months 17 percent and raw materials had advanced 46 percent. These advances made upward adjustments in retail prices necessary after controls had been imposed.

Remembering these experiences, the disposition of our committees is to recommend to the Senate a bill authorizing a temporary freeze of wages and prices if a new emergency threatens to start another wave of inflation. The danger is more acute than producers and distributors already are at such levels and cost consumers 2 billion dollars.

Appropriations Committees have commenced hearings on the new budget with the task of dividing among sub-committees in the House and a similar number in the Senate. I serve on the sub-committees for Independent Offices, Army Civil Functions, Labor-Federal Security and Treasury-Post Office. The Independent Offices sub-committee handles the largest volume of any except that for Armed Services, which handles military funds amounting to about 60 percent of the pending budget.

Last year the hearings before Senate sub-committees covered 12,730 pages of printed testimony. This year the hearings may be longer because of the determination of Congress to eliminate every dollar of unnecessary spending.

Since appropriations bills must be acted on first in the House it will be late spring before the Senate can do what is called "marking up" their bills. This means going through them and voting on every item. When a sub-committee has voted on a bill it is printed and submitted to the full committee, which also has an opportunity to vote on every item. Then, when the bill is sent to the Senate for action, there is no limit on debate and every item can be either increased, decreased or restricted to certain uses.

This triple check in the Senate, on top of similar action already taken by the House enabled us to cut approximately ten percent off the budget estimates for the current year and we hope to do at least as well every item. When a sub-committee has voted on a bill it is printed and submitted to the full committee, which also has an opportunity to vote on every item. Then, when the bill is sent to the Senate for action, there is no limit on debate and every item can be either increased, decreased or restricted to certain uses.

A Difficult "Situation"

Did you see that "Classified Ad" last week? The one that wanted a farmhand who had to be an expert agriculturist, sheep herder, tractor driver, bridge player? Plus being "an authority on chemistry and mathematics?" Slim Thompson, who ran that ad, was less than a joke, called and said, "I got 23 answers and almost every one claimed they could meet all those qualifications! That means I want to keep the man I have—'Handy' Peters. "He was thinking of quitting but now I've got to talk him into staying. Handy never pretends to be an expert, he's just a good all-around hired hand." From where I sit, Slim's smart to be wary of people who consider themselves to be all-around "experts." Some folks will "explore" on anything—from the chicken man about war to whether or not to drink beer or buttermilk. Personally I don't want to "classify" myself as knowing all the right answers. ### ONE-ACT PLAY WINS IN DISTRICT CONTEST

"Quiet Please", a one act comedy presented by members of the Spotlight Club in the district dramatic competition at Blair Junior High School on March 16, was one of two presentations to receive a distinguished rating, and was selected to be sent to the state-wide contest to be held in Charlottesville late in March. David Betts, Judd White, and Clavonne McGrath played leading roles in the drama. Other characters were George Aldridge, Lucy Christman, Julia Vaktor, and Cynthia Kirk. The play was directed by Miss Martha Carr and J. Allen Tyler.

SCHOOL STADIUM UNDER CONSTRUCTION

A stadium for Virginia Beach High School sports events is being built on the west side of the school. The lot has been cleared of the trees and undergrowth by bulldozers. The process of leveling and rolling is now being completed so that grass may be planted. The stadium is expected to be ready for use by next September.

JUNIORS ON SPEAKING DUTY FOR RED CROSS

Five members of the Junior class are serving as speakers for the Princess Anne County Chapter of the American Red Cross during the month of March. These students, Judy Lovell, Kitty Gardner, Julia Vaktor, Bobby Joe Gardner, and U. T. Brown, have prepared five minute talks on the work done here in our county by the local chapter and all over the country by the national organization. The talks are a part of the annual Red Cross Drive and are being given to local civic groups. To date the students have spoken to the Junior and Senior Women's Clubs and the Civitan and Sports Clubs.

FIFTH GRADE CONDUCTS EXPERIMENTS

Mrs. Orian Aveni's fifth grade class has completed a series of experiments concerning the working and the nature of air pressure. One of the most interesting experiments was performed by Buddy Ballcoo to illustrate the principle on which a submarine rises and submerges in the water. He used a large and a small bottle each filled to varying depths with water. Another experiment was the "bottle egg in the milk bottle" experiment, a well-known parlor trick. The third experiment involved placing a wadded piece of paper in a drinking glass, turning the glass upside down, and placing it directly in a bucket of water. The air pressure keeps the water from wetting the paper. The class also made walkie-talkies out of tin cans and string to help in their study of sound.

This group is planning a field trip in the near future to help them in their study. They will try to find the things that they have been studying in class such as cocoons, bird nests, birds, and more of the interesting animals that live near us.

FIFTH GRADE CLASS HAS QUIZ PROGRAM

Miss Katherine Manby's class had a quiz show featuring high lights of their studies on March 12. Mary Ann Parker served as quiz master. The class chose eight contestants, some of whom competed under noms des plumes. The contestants were: Tommy Cayce, Doty Bush, Mary Berkeley (who said she was a typewriter, maybe she meant a secretary), Brian Paphides, Ruth Johnson (who personified a school teacher), Robbie Goodman (who said he was a baby sitter), and Miss Barbara Van Fleet (Claudia Tucker, who was also a teacher from way down in Tennessee and who refused to answer any questions about the North). She was asked what the twenty-second state was (Tennessee); and of all people, she did not know.

Robbie Goodman, baby sitter, and Ruth Johnson, school teacher, were both winners in the quiz.

Daughters of Prize Bull Top Producers

Artificially sired daughters of Harden Farms King Twelve, a bull owned by the Virginia Artificial Breeding Association, are producing an average of 1,000 pounds more milk per year than their dams.

The eight daughters have been gaining 14,307 pounds of milk, 519 pounds of fat. Their dams averaged 12,985 pounds of milk, 468 pounds of fat.

Dr. Keith Huston, associate dairy husbandman at VPI, says this record points up the value of artificial breeding with proved sires. King Twelve was bred at Harden Farms, Camden, N. Y. The daughters are owned by L. J. Crowe, Wytheville, and Garst and Craun, Roanoke.

tremendous success. It is the story of six young people who are trying to get on the stage, and their efforts to get a famous Broadway producer who lives upstairs to watch a performance of his play which he is currently producing. Their plan is a whacky one, and the laughs come thick and fast. The cast of characters is as follows:

George Bodell—23, large, lazy and good-natured. Norman Reese—22, the capable member of the group.

Tony Dennison—24, tall, handsome and deeply sincere. Kate Ault—21, the cynic of the crowd. Marge Benson—21, a little more serious than the others. Dottie Coburn—18, "Dumb Dora" type, cheerful and happy. Mrs. Garnet—the bewildered and uncompromising landlady. Muriel Foster—Petulant and suspicious, with a voice like a tired Minnie Mouse.

Arthur Kenny—Middle-aged, dry, dignified and fastidious. Mr. Coburn—Successful business man, explosive but dignified. First Cop—The intellectual type of policeman. Second Cop—The dumb but earnest type.

The Little Theatre extends a cordial welcome to any one who is interested in any phase of theatre work, and urges them to be present.

Girl Scouts Aid Palsy Fund Drive

Mrs. Lewis Smith and her Girl Scout Group 112 are assisting the Tidewater Cerebral Palsy Parents' Council, Virginia Beach area, in distribution of boxes for the Cerebral Palsy for the purpose of collecting funds for our hundreds of crippled children and adults of the Tidewater Area. Your contribution will provide special training that is urgently needed for the cerebral palsied victims.

Cerebral palsy, known as "spastic paralysis" is a condition in which muscular control is impaired or lost. The disability may be severe or mild. The lack of control may be in arms, legs, tongue, speech mechanism, eyes or hearing.

Cerebral palsy is generally caused by injury to the brain before, during or after birth and since each child may have a different impairment, each must have an individual kind of treatment. With proper medical treatment, education and guidance many cerebral palsied patients will be able to live normal and useful lives. Many patients require medical treatment, speech therapy, physical or occupational therapy. By contributing to this cause you may help a child to live the normal life that is every person's heritage.

HOWARD SAVAGE TO REPRESENT SCHOOL

On April 17th and 18th there will be a State Bon Convention held in Richmond. Many students from Oceana High School will attend. We have nominated Howard Savage for president. Howard is vice-president of the Oceana S. C. A., is active in many of the school clubs, and has an A average.

He has chosen Tony Wadsworth as his campaign manager. Other members of the club are working very hard to put over a good campaign and get Howard elected president of the State Beta Club. There will be candidates from all active clubs in Virginia. The support of every Beta Club and its members will be greatly appreciated in the campaign.

The club is also working to take part in the talent show at the convention. The club will present a pantomime entitled, "And The Lamp Went Out."

MONOGRAM CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The members of the Oceana High School Monogram Club convened briefly on March 12th for the purpose of electing officers. By a procedure of popular vote the following students were elected:

Frank Allen, a senior football and basketball captain, was chosen president; Donald Marshall, an outstanding junior athlete, was elected vice-president; Charlotte Seabrook, one of the leading actors in "Oh, My Two Basketballs," was elected secretary; Roy Whithead and Walter Goodwin were chosen treasurer and reporter respectively.

As its initial activity, the club plans to sponsor a student-faculty basketball game in the near future.

OCEANA YEAR BOOK NOW ON PRESS

The 1953 Oceana Year Book is now well under way. Most of the book has gone to press, with the exception of the last eight pages and the Senior Play picture.

The staff has been showing great interest and cooperation in their efforts to complete and edit a superior year book. Some new and original ideas have been used this year with the hope that this year's book will long be remembered as one of the best.

The printing and arranging of the book has been very strenuous to all involved. The senior sponsors have been given much of their time to the cause. The book is scheduled to return to the school sometime in May.

OCEANA F.H.A. HOLDS MONTHLY MEETING

On March 17th the Oceana F. H. A. under the guidance of Mrs. Dorothy Hixson, held its monthly meeting in the Home Economics room in honor of all 8th grade girls.

The meeting consisted of a program under the direction of Jo Ann Hughes. Eight club members explained the meaning of the F. H. A. using the club emblem as a basis of their talks. The right purposes of the club as described by these girls were:

To promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking.

To emphasize the importance of the home as a center of life.

To encourage democracy in home and community life.

To work for home and family life for all.

To promote international good will.

To foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life.

To provide wholesome individual and group recreation.

To further interest in home economics.

The Home Economics room was decorated with cut flowers and pictures of the latest trends in clothing.

Following the program open-faced sandwiches, cookies and punch were served.

SENIORS GETTING SET FOR 1953 PLAY

Besides completing the 1953 "Cavalier" drama and the senior class mail this week, the senior class of Oceana High has the added excitement in the form of the arrival of play books.

Students, under the direction of Miss Margaret Bailey, Mr. Edgar Barham and Jewell Whitlock, will have tryouts this week and begin rehearsals immediately.

The play "Lily, The Felon's Daughter," a Gay Nineties Melodrama in three acts by Tom Taggart and published by Samuel French is as seemingly funny as one could possibly imagine. It is truly a "Big Find" and might tend to hurt the funniness.

"Lily, The Felon's Daughter" will be presented in the high school auditorium April 24th.

PLANS FOR JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET BEING MADE

At a recent meeting of the Junior Class of Oceana High School Donny Oglesby, class president, appointed the following committees to make plans for the Junior-Senior Banquet:

Local Arrangements—Jane Jacobs and Joanne Hughes; Theme and Decorations—Joan Gallup and Jacques Carson; Band—Causery Davis and Geraldine Midgett; Invitations—Lorraine Cox and Mary Garrett; Program—Howard Savage and Mable Phipps; Favors—Loretta Hitchings and Dolly White; Publicity—Lorraine Cox and Howard Savage.

Other members of the class were requested to identify themselves with the committee of their choice.

Mr. Stricker asked for the cooperation of all the class members in the banquet and pledged his full support. He also announced that all members of the Junior and Senior classes could bring guests if they so desired.

The class decided to have the Semi-Formal affair about the middle of May.

The president appointed Geraldine Midgett, Anne Rhine, Mable Phipps, Gaynelle Kline and Joanne Hughes as a committee to choose a flower, color, and song appropriate for the banquet occasion.

To raise money for the banquet, it was suggested that a two-day rummage sale be sponsored. On this committee are Billy Hinson, Charles Ammons, Dolly White, Lorraine Cox, and Lois Wood.

The officers of the Junior Class

HIGH SCHOOL BAND HAS BUSY YEAR

The Oceana High School Band, under the capable leadership of Mr. James A. Givens, Director, is doing wonderful work this year. All the band members, their parents, and their friends have shown great interest in the progress of the band.

The band performed at all the football games and received many compliments. The members appeared in many parades and were especially welcomed and applauded by large, excited citizens.

A Christmas program was presented at the December Parents Teachers Association meeting which was enjoyed by all who were present.

Several pieces of church needed equipment have been added by the band this year. Among them are six snare drums, six snare drum stands, two kettle drums, two glockenspiel stands, a bass horn stand, a bass clarinet and a tenor saxophone. All these have added greatly to the band.

Ten members of the band are planning to enter a contest sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution. All entries are required to write a theme on "Highlights of American Music." It is hoped that the members will receive prizes and recognition on their work.

The 42 year old local golf professional, playing out of the Officers Club Golf Course, will compete with the cream of pro golf for a share of the original $10,000.00 pot. Of the total $12,500.00 honoraria, $2,500.00 has been set aside for players over 45 years in what is to be known as the Walter M. Bott Senior Division. The Chamber of Commerce sponsored Open leads off the half-million dollar, 24 tourney P.G.A. summer circuit, and will also feature a $1,000.00 Pro-Amateur, but Outman hasn't indicated whether or not he will take part in the pre-Open event. Right now it's enough for any golfer, regardless of age or experience, to contemplate competing with other Virginia Beach Open entries such as "Slammin' Sammy" Snead, a "Junior" or Senior Gene Sarazen, "The Connecticut Squire." Outman has received a special invitation to enter

Mrs. Taylor Talks On Modern Art Sunday at 2 P. M.

Mrs. Bertha Fanning Taylor will give a gallery talk on the Significant Moderns Exhibition at the Norfolk Museum of Art, on Sunday afternoon, March 22nd, at 2 o'clock, which will be free to the public. The talk will be before the paintings, analyzing examples of particular styles, and showing how "visual analysis," for the elements of the artist's language factors, reveals his particular aesthetic intention, and gives the meaning to the picture. Emphasis will be given, especially, to the Blümmner Showing, as it reveals an artist's exposure to "modern influences," and how he can be developed by them. Modern art appreciation will be stressed as well as distinctions between different types of "modern art."

Time of Applying Nitrogen to Corn Negligible Factor

Time of applying nitrogen to corn had little effect on yields in tests at the Orange branch of VPI Agricultural Experiment Station.

The tests were conducted on Davidson clay loam, and the type of soil may be a contributing factor to the results.

But researchers believe that farmers can apply nitrogen along with the phosphorus and potash at planting or before on the heavier soils such as Davidson, and thus eliminate the costly and time-consuming practice of applying nitrogen as side dressing.

When the corn is 12 to 15 inches tall. If the nitrogen can be applied with the fertilizer, the corn might be able to make better use of it, and the practice also would decrease the cost of growing a high producing corn crop.

An 8-8-8 or 10-10-10 is an excellent corn fertilizer on the heavier soils.

The researchers say when the nitrogen was applied early, however, the moisture content at harvest was slightly lower. The moisture tended to increase as the nitrogen was applied at later dates. They also found that the plant stand and number of ears at harvest were slightly greater where the nitrogen was applied with the phosphorus and potash although all plots were planted at the same rate.

BEDSIDE LIBRARY USED AT HOSPITAL

A bedside lending library has been started at the Virginia Beach Hospital and is being operated by the Hospital Service Committee of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne, with Mrs. Waverly I. Dickens, Jr., as chairman.

The club owned some of the books and others have been donated. Any one wishing to give books for use in this library can contact Mrs. Dickens at 1610M.

Members of the committee can be seen on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons, as they trundle their little cart of books around the hospital to visit with the patients.

The library has been in operation for four weeks and has had a most enthusiastic reception by members of the staff of the Hospital as well as the patients.

Red Cross canteen workers made 6,149,000 servings last year.

Virginia Ranks High in "Town And County Church Program"

Virginia stands third in the 13 southeastern states taking part in the "Town and County Church Development Program," from the standpoint of the number of churches entering.

Dr. Donald R. Fessler, associate pastor at V.P.I. and chairman of the executive committee in charge of the program in Virginia, says the three top states are Georgia, with 115 churches enrolled; North Carolina, with 107; and Virginia, with 74. Thirty-seven denominations, including both white and negro churches, are included in the list in the southeast.

The program, sponsored by Emory University in cooperation with the Sears, Roebuck Foundation, is set up to encourage rural churches to improve their facilities, organization and religious activities; to work toward the betterment of the community; and to strive through study and action for a better world.

Other members of the executive committee in Virginia are: S. W. Brundant, State Soil Conservation Service; Rev. C. R. Stevens, and Rev. Ralph Ambler, all of Richmond.

Dr. Fessler said March 31 is the deadline for accepting entries into the program. Churches interested in further information and enrollment plans should write to him at V.P.I., Blacksburg.

Peanuts, Corn Not Complete Hogging-Off Diet

Tests at the Holland branch of VPI Agricultural Experiment Station indicate that neither peanuts nor soybeans adequately supplement corn for hogging-off.

Pigs on corn inter-planted with peanuts gained less than those on the same feeds with a protein supplement, and less than those on corn alone with protein supplement.

Both peanuts and soybeans appear to be deficient in some factor which is provided in the 39 percent protein supplement in use at the Holland station.

Control pigs fed in dry lot made faster gains than the pigs hogging-off crops. Researchers say the results indicate that more efficient use of feed may be obtained by harvesting the crops and feeding them in dry lot rather than hogging them off.

In another test with pigs, the Holland researchers found that Laidlaw and lower in energy per pound of clover was more palatable and was feed.

Wives' Club Celebrating First Anniversary; One of Area's Biggest

Tamborines will jingle and a carnival atmosphere envelop the Armed Forces Staff College next Thursday (March 19) when the Supply Officers Wives Club will celebrate its first anniversary.

A birthday cake decorated with grazed closer than lespedeza. Better use of both pastures was noted when the pigs were on limited feed. Laidlaw clover was a satisfactory protein supplement for shelled corn.

For three consecutive years, the pigs fed in dry lot have outgained the pigs on pasture. This fact is not in agreement with most of the published reports about the relative performance of pigs fattened in a dry lot and those fattened on pasture. Researchers say it seems logical, however, that if the supplement is complete, pigs in dry lot will eat more energy-feed and therefore make greater gains than those on pasture where the forage they eat is bulky and lower in energy per pound of clover was more palatable and was feed.

one candle, and ice cream will be served at the luncheon meeting which marks the first birthday of the club, one of the biggest women's clubs in Tidewater.

The organization was started just a year ago by Mrs. John E. Wood, wife of Rear Admiral John E. Wood, commanding officer of the Norfolk Naval Supply Center, to help the wives of Navy Supply officers stationed on ships and at shore activities in the area to get to know each other better.

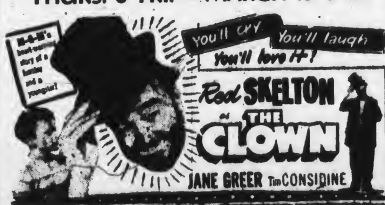

The club has also been very active in a Navy Relief Society work. The members meet each week to make layettes for young Navy wives and also volunteer their services for Navy Relief work.

Entertainment next Thursday will commence with a social hour at noon and continue in an informal fashion until luncheon begins at one o'clock. Mrs. W. C. Johnson, executive officer of the Naval Supply Center, said.

STRAIGHT From the SHOULDER . . . Fashion, That Is!

By ALICE BREWER WHITE

Fashion-Women's Editor

("Woman's World," 9-9:30 a. m., Monday thru Saturday, over WTAR, features Mrs. White's chatter about celebrities, homemaking, garden and civic events. Watch for "A.B.W.'s Green Thumb Show," 10 a. m., WTAR-TV.)

Definite Becille Trend in Fashions—

Remember that old song about "I'll be switched, the hay ain't pitchin' old, Giddyap Napoleon, it looks like rain"? Well, there's going to be some fancy hay-pitching about in the fashions for warm weather wear and you'll not have to be a rural gal to wear them, either! High fashion has really gone to the straw stacks for inspiration and materials.

Gay Pauley, United Press fashion writer, tells us that "there's more straw being used in this year's warm weather fashions than you'll find at a livestock exhibit. And fancy straw at that." So that should give you an idea of what it's all about.

The straw is pliable and not scratchy, since the fabric people and designers have really settled down to the new idea. Heretofore, you only thought of straw hats. Now, just straw fancy pants, shoes, belts, trimmings, straw jewelry, bags, parasols and other straw accessories.

Zita McClintock, a 23-year-old designer, originated the straw cloth bodice, trousers, overskirt and hat costume, either in the more formal black and white, or in brown and natural tones.

Mr. Fred, of John Fredericks, has whipped up a sheath dress in natural colors made out of the same Milan straw he uses in hats. These dresses are stunning and worn with parasols, fringed in raffia.

Ceil Chapman uses straw embroidery on her dresses, while Designer Lilly Dache uses straw flowers or straw lace, set with jewels.

One circular skirt of straw, in a recent Manhattan fashion show, was embroidered in three-dimensional roses in chamois or straw and worn with a woman's vest of natural-colored straw, fashioned just like the men wear!

Much of the straw used by designers has been imported from Italy and has been treated so that it is as flexible as jersey. Some of it is synthetic and some is cotton woven coarsely to resemble straw.

Merry Matrons

By ALISBEE

● Lovely Irene Dunne, one of Hollywood's merriest matrons and most gracious ladies, is considered the kindest, the most unselfish, the most principled and the greatest lady by the Hollywood beauty expert, glamorous Anita Colby. She enjoys pointing out that it is because of all these assets Irene has that inner glow and kindly heart which adds so much to her over-flowing way of living. Her face shows all this so beautifully, too. Irene has a great collection of medals for her work with women's groups, for charity, for cancer research help, for fidelity to her religious principles—she does a great work for the Christchurch—and has a wonderful time every Christmas Eve when she has open house for lonely, homesick people, the "little people." She goes around Hollywood town collecting them at bus and railway stations, in churches and so on, and takes them to her beautiful home and treats them with great kindness. All this because Irene was once a very shy, young and unimportant singer who spent a lonely Christmas Eve in a dreary railroad station in Atlanta, Ga., sitting the whole night through—so miserable, poor and frightened—she swore that the never knowingly would let anyone have such a Christmas Eve of loneliness. This is really a beauty tip, for matrons who worry so when they face their mirrors, this is to let them know that doing good for others, sharing kind thoughts and gestures with others, will give you that beauty glow that comes straight from the heart and not from the bottle on the dressing table.

● Mrs. Kennedy Jarr's talent as a fine pianist and her hobby of music, along with her keen appreciation of the five little Jarrs—her "stair steps" of fun-about-the-house—are probably the real inspirations for her making using acts of goodness and kindness to so many people hereabouts.

Peppy Mrs. Earl K. Solenberg, one of our most active navy wives in the Red Cross drive-for-blood, just received a letter from a friend of hers who lives in Holland, where the Solenbergs lived for two years before coming to Virginia Beach recently. The people of Holland have received twenty millions of dollars from their friendly neighbor country which is just one tenth of the total amount needed for rehabilitation.

Cute Bonnie Cashin is one designing gal who has really gone back on the farm for her straw, the honest-to-goodness straw, and has made some unusual straw aprons to tie on her cotton dresses.

Fashion may not be hay, come the summer days, but it certainly comes mightily close to it from the latest reports!

Chiffons Start Another Season—Chiffons are for town as well as after-five wear again. Chiffons are teamed with crepes and textured silks in groups of summer town blacks for this summer's wear. Black and white will predominate for summer, with the all-white and all-black chiffon individually starred in addition to the combination of black and white in all fabrics. Navy chiffons come next, then gray with beige tones rating as the new high fashion neutrals for summer.

Deflated Bloomers—Are on the March—Beach fashions with bloomer suits and real cover-up jackets will be all-important for summer. The new version of the bloomers have only the suggestion of a bloomer leg. Sun suits, swim suits, shorts and knickerbockers strengthen the summer fashion story on puffed leg fashions in every fabric from sturdy denims to the most elegant embroidered cottons. The sleek uncluttered swim suit line in printed or embroidered cotton is first choice in string or halter tie neck-line styles.

Beauty and Make-up Fashions—Madam Elias of Paris, France, with boxes of Cartier Shaps' prettiest Easter chapeaux; Mr. Dondy with his latest Springtime coiffure ideas and make-up expert with new suggestions for Spring make-up colors will be featured today at 11:30 a. m. during the third session of the Y.W.C.A.'s day at the Community House when A.B.W.'s "Merry Matrons Fashion Clinic" will be in session. All lady-readers of this column are invited. Mrs. Elizabeth Bender will be in charge of the registration. We will try to analyze figure problems of the ladies who wish to know the answers.

POLENTA

This week we're going to talk about "Polenta," the Italian dish made with corn meal, but with a history as old and perhaps even older than the Roman Empire.

By combining the rich full flavor of corn meal and the taste-satisfying goodness of cheddar cheese, you can make a main dish that is really out of this world. If you like a tasty meat sauce poured over Polenta, you will find Polenta a real new food sensation.

Polenta originally was made with meals other than corn long before Columbus sailed the ocean blue—in the year fourteen ninety-two, so history says. It was often served as a substitute for bread, but most of the time it was brought to the table as a main dish.

After the discovery of America, and the Indian's corn, Italy soon learned to use zeafull corn meal as a Polenta base. Today, centuries later, Polenta and corn meal are virtually synonymous. This food favorite has been popularized in every section of the country, wherever appetites call for new adventures in eating.

Polenta with meat sauce has an aromatic flavor all its own. Browned pieces of beef or ground beef form the base of this companion for Polenta, to offer a savory main course for a king, as well as you wonder full folks at home.

Polenta is quick, easy and economical to prepare. Let's make some Polenta with meat sauce.

Sift 1-1/2 cups corn meal (I am told yellow corn meal makes it richer) and 2 teaspoons salt into 4-1/2 cups boiling water. Cook until thick. Cover and cook over hot water for 30 minutes or longer. Now add 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, and 1/2 pound cheddar cheese. Blend thoroughly. Turn into shallow pan, let stand until firm, then cut in slices and serve.

1953 Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks do more work for less money!

Here are a few things we think are worthy of your consideration before you buy any truck.

In 1953, Chevrolet trucks are more rugged, have huskier and more rigid construction than ever in the past. This means longer truck life and lower overall costs to you.

You'll find the increased horsepower and higher compression ratio (7.1 to 1) of the big advanced 108-h.p. Loadmaster engines in heavy-duty models bring you greater power (200 ft. lbs. of torque), and greater performance, greater ability to do the job. You'll find that means faster acceleration, greater ability to climb the steepest grades. And you'll find a wonderful gain in gasoline mileage, too!

As any owner of a 1953 Chevrolet truck knows, these are the sturdiest, most powerful trucks Chevrolet has ever built. Yet with all the wonderful advantages they offer, they list for less than any other trucks of comparable capacity and specifications.

Before you buy, drop in at our showroom and talk things over. Let us show you how Chevrolet trucks do more work for you, and for less money, too!

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

The Scouts of Princess Anne District held their rally last Friday night at the Community House on Baltic Avenue, Virginia Beach.

The boys from Troop 62 Oceana made it an unlucky "Friday the 13th" for the other Troops of the District by winning first place in two of the five events. They also had top score for attendance as 48 percent of the parents of the boys of the Troop were there to help and cheer them on to the top score of 516 points.

Second place in the Rally went to the newcomers of Troop 361. This new Troop will deserve the applause in receiving its fine showing by winning a total of 447 points.

Troop 66 was third with 397 points.

Event No. 1, a Candle Relay, was won by Troop 61. Event No. 2, Map Reading, was won by Troop 62, who scored 370 points out of a possible 400 for this event. Event No. 3, a Shingle Race, was won by Troop

361. Event No. 4, a Bellows Blasting Relay, was won by Troop 60 who inflated and purified themselves to first place over Troop 69 who placed second after an exciting duel. Event No. 5, Fire by Friction, was won by Troop 62 who produced flames in a matter of seconds for the best demonstration of this skill that has ever been witnessed in local competition.

The award for the Cub Pack having the best exhibit on display at the Rally was won by Pack 61. The record attendance of adults were lavish in their praise for the skill of such young hands.

The Activities Chairman of the District wishes to take this opportunity to thank all of the Scouts who attended the Rally and assisted in making it a success.

One of the high lights of the Rally was furnished by Explorer Scout Sgt. Jacobs and several other members of Air Squadron 61 who told of the objectives of this newly organized explorer unit and of some of its recent activities.

Tuesday, March 24th is an important date to all Executive Board members, District commissioners, Council Exploring Commissioners, and National Jamboree committees. That is the date for a first get-together to be held at the High School in Craddock, near U. S. Route 17 on the southeastern outskirts of Portsmouth at 7:00 p. m. Messrs. Clarence F. Uffler, Regional Executive, Peter C. Paulson, Deputy Regional Executive, are coming from Philadelphia to be there. This get-together is for an evening of fellowship and real accomplishment for the good of Scouting in the entire Council.

The Princess Anne District Committee will hold its monthly meeting Thursday night, March 19th at the Scout Cabin of Troop 62 in Oceana at 8:00 p. m. District Chairman DeKoven King urges all members to attend as there is some very important business to be taken care of.

'Wander Drug' Tests Being Made on Soil From Smithfield Plantation, 'Home of Virginia Governors'

Will the next 'wander drug' be found in soil taken from historic Smithfield plantation, often referred to as "the home of Virginia's governors?"

Scientists this week are testing samples of earth gathered from the grounds of the plantation by two graduate students in botany at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. They hope to find molds which may produce a new life-saving antibiotic such as aureomycin.

The samples were taken by Thomas Smith of Blacksburg and Frank Burleson of Norfolk, and have been forwarded to Pearl River, N. Y., where they are undergoing tests at Lederle Laboratories.

The old Smithfield plantation, on the west side of V.P.I.'s campus, is a story-and-a-half frame building constructed between 1772 and 1774 by Col. William Preston. James Patton Preston, born at Smithfield in 1774, was governor of Virginia during 1816-19.

Gov. Patton's son, John Edgar, governor of Virginia in the period 1830-34. And their son, John Buchanan Floyd, born at Smithfield, was Virginia's governor from 1849 through 1852.

Old, acid-saturated soils are regarded by scientists as among the most likely sources of antibiotic molds. The grounds of Smithfield are extremely favorable in this respect. It is estimated that at least 75 years have passed since the soils from which the samples were taken were last cultivated.

While there are no reliable formulas for predicting whether soils from Smithfield, or any other particular area, are certain to produce antibiotic molds, scientists are interested in these particular samples because they represent a distinct type. And all types of soil are being tested in the world-wide search for new wonder drugs.

Only a few years ago, another tiny sample of earth from Missouri was received by the Pearl River scientists, who processed it just as they had tested thousands of earlier samples, in their search for a new antibiotic.

But from this soil an interesting golden mold appeared. Test tube experiments produced startling results. The new mold effectively prevented the growth of streptococci, streptococci, and a variety of rod-shaped germs called bacilli. The latter property was most significant, for it acted against a wide variety of diseases in humans and animals.

The golden mold, aureomycin, has saved thousands upon thousands of lives since it became available to the public in 1948.

The quest for new antibiotics continues today with the testing of soil samples from every area of the earth. Scientists believe that somewhere, perhaps here at Smithfield, there may be soil with a strain of micro-organisms which will prove more effective in the war against disease than any thing now known.

Aiding Search for Wander Drugs

Tom Smith, left, of Blacksburg and Frank Burleson of Norfolk, graduate students in botany at V.P.I., gather a soil sample from Smithfield which will be checked to see if it may produce a new 'wander drug.'

'Above & Beyond' Finds Atom Bomb Sound a Problem

When M-G-M began preparations for filming "Above and Beyond," the story of Colonel Paul Tibbets and his historic flight over Japan to drop the first atom bomb, a pertinent question arose in the minds of the picture's producer-director, Melvin Frank and Norman Panama. The question was, "What does the explosion of an atom bomb sound like?"

It was referred to and subsequently answered by the studio's sound recording chief, Douglas Shearer, after the latter had discussed the question with Colonel Tibbets himself.

"The problem, in layman language, was difficult," declares Shearer, "because this had to be the loudest sound ever recorded. Moreover, we had to satisfy every moviegoer's idea of what the bomb would sound like. Of course, the sound has actually been recorded by separate and Signal Corps technicians, but always from surface stations. To give a true interpretation of what Colonel Tibbets' plane heard while flying 30,000 feet over Hiroshima, we went into research which covered a period of weeks. In the final analysis, when "Above and Beyond" plays your local theatre, our greatest hope will be that you don't actually notice the sound of the explosion."

The M-G-M sound expert defends his seemingly paradoxical statement in this way: "If audiences accept what they hear as being so completely natural that they don't remember it a moment after they have heard it, we have done our job to perfection. For the work of a Hollywood sound technician is unique. Like a safe-cracker, he prefers that the result of his labor is 'main hidden from the public eye.'"

Robert Taylor and Eleanor Parker co-star in "Above and Beyond," which will be shown at the Virginia Beach Drive-In Theatre this week. Taylor enacts the role of Colonel Tibbets, with Miss Parker seen as his wife.

1,500,000 volunteer workers aided in collecting funds to provide Red Cross services in this country.

Approximately 40 cents of every dollar of Red Cross national expenditures last year provided services to the armed forces at home and abroad, and to veterans.

Marines Tell Value of Blood to Men Fighting on Front in Korea

Two of Uncle Sam's fighting Marines are holding their appearance locally to tell the thousands of Princess Anne County high school students in Ocean View to the life-giving properties of blood and to urge them to sign up for the Red Cross Blood Donor Day March 27. Recent returns from Korea, Sergeant Frank Lockman and Corporal Earl Newbright were introduced by Dr. Howard Kahn, chairman of the civilian club's blood committee, at the County Rally of Scouts held at the Community House. Before the scheduled Blood Day, the Marines will appear before other organizations on the radio and television and the day before will find them travelling around Virginia Beach in a sound truck.

Sergeant Lockman, who claims Newbright, Pa., as home, was a recipient of blood used on the battlefields of Korea. His citations include the Purple Heart, Presidential unit and one star, good conduct, Korean medal with three stars and the United Nations' Medal. Corporal Newbright, whose home is listed as Dayton, Ohio, includes among his citations a letter of commendation and two of valor. Procedures will be followed to get at least 100,000 units of the blood which is the life-giving properties of blood and to urge them to sign up for the Red Cross Blood Donor Day March 27. ## ONION SETTING TIME SAYS VPI

It's about time for Virginia's home gardeners to plant onion sets.

F. H. Scott, assistant horticulturist at V. P. I., says onion sets should be planted early in the spring—from now to early April. A light frost seldom injures onion plants, although a heavy frost may ruin the crop.

Place the sets in shallow furrows so they will be barely covered in heavy soil, or covered by as much as an inch in lighter soils. It takes one to two pounds of sets to plant a 100-foot row.

Scott warns that sets which have been stored at improper temperatures are likely to develop seed stalks. The most satisfactory storage temperature for sets is 30 degrees to 32 degrees Fahrenheit.

As for varieties and other cultural practices—you'll find the details in a leaflet "Onion Culture for the Home Garden," authorized by Scott and available for the asking from county agents of the V. P. I. Agricultural Extension Service.

Air Force Begins Reservist Check

On March 16, the United States Air Force began a personal interview inventory of some 500 Air Reservists not on active military service, living in the City of Hampton, City of Warwick, York, James City, Surry, Isle of Wight, Nansemond, Norfolk, and Princess Anne Counties. The inventory is scheduled to be completed by March 24. Headquarters for the inventory will be at Building 1-278, Shellbank Area, Langley Air Force Base, Virginia.

It is part of a nationwide inventory of 100,000 such Reservists designed to furnish the Air Force with an accurate accounting of its Reserve manpower and to benefit the individual Reservist by bringing his records up-to-date and informing him precisely where he stands with respect to active service in the event of total mobilization.

Total membership in the American Red Cross is now 37,000,000.

New Red Apple 'Taking Over' in Old Dominion

The new red sports are taking over Virginia apple circles, the Virginia Department of Agriculture said today. The old time green apple that lived in a barrel is getting the bulldozer.

The Department cast a generally approving eye on this change in apple fashions. It is more likely, the Department said, to please the consumer, who thinks an apple should be red.

Moreover, the Department's apple and peach tree survey shows that old, low-yielding orchards are being plowed under, which should help the industry catch up with the competition.

Even the Albermarle Pippin, planted the Department said, which tickled the palate of Queen Victoria years ago, is a casualty of the reds. The survey showed a 33 percent decrease in this variety since 1949.

It was the same story for Yorks, Staymans, Black Twig, Ben's Davis and Winesaps, with reductions ranging from 11 to 24 percent.

On the other hand, red strains of Rome Beauty were up 19 percent, York Imperial reds 17 percent, red Staymans 4 percent and Red Delicious nearly 8 percent since 1949.

In the three year period, 18 percent of all Virginia commercial trees were abandoned or removed, and only about 5 percent of all trees re-

But this was on the rosy side because better located and more efficient orchards were left to produce Virginia's draw-back, low yields per tree.

Production in the same three years, the Department noted, has stuck pretty close to 10,000,000 bushels, despite the 13 percent net loss of trees.

For peaches, the survey story was the same. The breeds that blushed easily were on the up trend the others down.

Elbertas lost 7 percent of their trees, although these good shipping peaches still made up more than one-third of all trees.

and Hale declined about 25 percent and Halehaven, Shippers Late Red and Early Elberta about 7 percent.

Peaches with the pink cheeks are best for the new pick-'em-yourself trend in peach marketing, the Department said.

Around many Virginia cities, peach orchardists sell to the city folks who ride out and like to get their peaches fresh from the tree.

Junior Red Cross members in the nation's schools last year filled 623,000 gift boxes valued at $1,240,000 to be shipped to children in foreign lands.

A monthly average of 28,500 volunteers gave a total of 3,178,000 hours last year to provide Red Cross services for veterans in more than 150 VA hospitals and homes.

WEIGHTY FINANCE

A Dixie GI was playing cards with some English soldiers for the first time. Taking a quick look at what he had been dealt, the Southern boy saw four lovely aces.
 "One pound," was the bet ventured by the Englishman on his right.
 "Ah, don't know how you all count your money," said the GI, "but I'll raise you a ton."

SHE DID IT, TOO!

And then there was the woman who wanted the bank clerk to take the withdrawal of her husband's half of their joint bank account.

EASTER EGG CAKE

ONE OF THE BEST WAYS TO STAY YOUNG with your family is to show them in some unexpected way that you enjoy holidays as much as they do. This can be done in many ways. One of the most enjoyable, for the whole family, is to give them a dinner, that looks like the holiday. Like this over-sized Easter Egg.
 It's a layer cake recommended by Procter & Gamble's Household Information Service director, Winifred S. Carter, and is good eating in any form. But when it is cut in the shape of an egg (with a cardboard pattern) and frosted in yummy chocolate frosting with typical Easter Egg designs, it makes the family think that Mom is hip, and not so old even though she may be twenty-nine.

SPRING CAKE

Makes two 8-inch layers

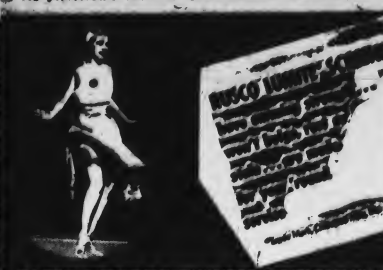

Measure into mixing bowl: 2 cups sifted cake flour
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 1/2 cup oil
 1/2 cup milk
 1 teaspoon salt
 Beat vigorously by hand or mixer (medium speed) 2 minutes.
 Stir in: 3 teaspoons double acting baking powder.
 Add: 1/2 cup milk, 4 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon lemon extract.
 Mix thoroughly by hand or mixer (medium speed) for 2 minutes. Pour into two square 8-inch pans (1 1/2" deep) which have been rubbed with Crisco and lined with heavy waxed paper. (If smaller pans are used, fill half full, bake remaining batter in cup cake pans.) Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) for about 30 minutes. When cool cut in shape of an egg and frost.
 *With tartarate type, use 4 1/2 teaspoons. (ANS Features)

Common Towels Are Base For Many Useful Items

Many useful household articles are quickly available to the thrifty woman who cares to sew. Towels may well furnish the base for such items as shoe bags, aprons, clothespin bags, bibs or pot-holders.

 For a shoebag fold a towel up to three inches from top, and stitch down the center. Sew bias binding all around the sides.
 To make a neat and different apron, stitch two towels together the long way. Turn so the stripes run horizontally and make a casing across the top for the apron string, which may be made of bias binding, or go through. Stitch, stick, tack down the sides two inches from edge and also across the bottom strip.

 Need a clothespin bag? Well, fold towel up in half. Make casing across top to allow cord through. Stitch up sides to within five inches of top. Stitch bias binding around lower sides and across bottom. And there you have it!

World's Oldest Cargo Ship Being Unloaded, Raised

The world's oldest cargo ship was discovered recently off the southern coast of France and is now being raised by a National Geographic Society expedition. It is a Greco-Roman vessel sunk in the third century before Christ.

Already divers have brought to the surface one of the rarest finds of archeological treasure in recent years—almost 1,600 large amphorae (pottery vessels used to carry the liquid cargoes of the ancients) have been recovered. Some, still corked, contained wine more than 2,100 years old.

Among the treasures taken from the sunken ship has been 1,400 pieces of fine export silverware which experts say probably were made in the Greek province of Ialium, now Campania, Italy.

Archeologists believe the ship, 110 feet and 600 ton, was sunk around 230 B.C. Code letters on the amphorae reveal that the ship and cargo was owned by Marcus Sestius.

Historians report much is already known of this merchant. Records survive to show that he was a Roman who was naturalized a Greek citizen in the year 240 B.C., and who made of Delos. Pius Livius wrote of him as a "powerful politician" sent to prepare Greece for Roman conquest.

The ship will be cleared of cargo and mud by late spring of this year. "Then we will raise her," an expedition spokesman declared. "We plan to duplicate her exactly and actually sail her on her last course—Delos to Latium to the scene of her foundering—using only replicas of her original fittings, riggings, and navigational instruments."

The expedition's discoveries are adding much to the world's knowledge of the ancients. After the present work is completed, the group which is headed by Captain Jacques-Yves Cousteau, will start an extensive around the world oceanographic expedition. The expedition, like the present task, is being sponsored by the National Geographic Society.

The larger the disaster, the larger the need. Give to the Red Cross.

TEN MILLION PLUS IN INCOME TAX—If your taxes bothered you this year, compare yours with a look at this ten million, six hundred thousand dollar voucher paid to the Collector of Internal Revenue by the Norfolk and Western Railway as 40% of its U. S. income tax for 1952. N. & W. Treasurer E. P. Chockley tenders the paper to Mrs. J. Albert Ellett, cashier of the Roanoke, Va., collector's office. Federal, state, county and local taxes paid by the railway for 1952 totalled $39,557,000, or $1,808 for each employee.

A BUSINESSLIKE STEP

If other firms takes a wise business man to recognize a bargain. This is particularly true when the bargain can be gained only through expenditures of funds that are all too scarce.

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors displayed such business acumen this month when, although faced on every side with record breaking budget requests, it authorized the spending of county money for several projects which through State and Federal participation will return the value many fold in county improvements.

The first wise act was the county board's agreeing to earmark a part of its secondary road budget to acquire right of way and remove obstructions along a part of the Indian River Road where the State Highway Department plans new construction.

The State Highway Department plans to improve 2.58 miles of this road—from the Military Highway to Meers Corner—at a cost of $110,000. This construction work would be done with joint State and Federal funds.

Before it could be undertaken, however, the county had to agree to acquire the right of way and pay for moving obstructions.

At a time when countless housing developments are making an untold number of demands on the supervisors for road improvements, it was not easy to decide to place scarce secondary road funds where an already passable road existed.

There is no way of knowing how much the project will cost the county. It is reasonable to assume, however, that it will be far less than the State and Federal governments will spend on the strength of the county board's willingness to cooperate.

The area is becoming heavily populated and the road heavily traveled. Engineers report that a traffic survey disclosed 2,000 cars per day on one section and 1,100 on another.

The decision was a wise one.

Along the same vein, the county board approved the inclusion of a $10,000 item for civilian defense in its annual budget. It's hard not to be complacent at a time when attack seems so far fetched. It is even easier to be complacent, when being alert means shelling out hard cash for defense measures.

By making $10,000 available to the director of civilian defense the county stands to receive something like $30,000 in county improvements.

The civilian defense director has announced plans to purchase a new radio system for the county which is valued at upwards of $22,000. The county's share of this project would be little more than $5,000. The same applies in the purchase of first aid equipment and drugs, for which the Federal government pays half, the State one quarter and the county the remaining quarter.

It's good business, but it takes a good business man to see it.

HATCHETT "WHALES AWAY"

Virginia Beach's W. Russell Hatchett, with his hat in the political ring, seems to be up to his old tricks in speaking out in generalities with no specific knowledge of the subject. He is now "barking" on a state-wide basis since he is candidate for governor of Virginia.

The well respected newspaper, The Richmond News-Leader, recently took Mr. Hatchett to task for his seeming lack of knowledge in a talk at South Boston. For our reader's interest in knowing the type candidate Mr. Hatchett is we reprint the Richmond editorial herewith:

"We see by the papers that Russell Hatchett, a candidate for Governor is whaling away again at that quadrennial whipping boy, the State Compensation Board. At South Boston last night, he urged that the board be abolished to make more funds available for raising teacher salaries; he also charged that the board sets public officials' salaries according to political considerations.

It would be refreshing if the board's critics would single out, just once, a specific abuse of power — a definite, named instance in which the board has rewarded political service on the part of some sheriff or county treasurer with a fat increase in pay. These dog-eared, unsubstantiated generalizations get mighty wearisome as the years go by.

The fact is, of course, that the board fixes salaries only within brackets laid down by the General Assembly, based largely on local population. If anyone thinks the pay of local officers would be reduced by leaving the business of fixing salaries to county Boards of Supervisors, he has another think coming. The system may not be perfect—few things are—but the board is far from the evil monster that uninformed critics would have the public believe."

Mr. Hatchett's charge that the Board sets public officials' salaries according to political services is interesting. We wonder if Mr. Hatchett knows if the Compensation Board set his salary as Commissioner of the Revenue on the basis of his political service or on the basis of his ability to fill the job, and was he paid too much or too little? Before he attempts to abuse the Compensation Board, he should make his stand known publicly on these questions.

It is well to remember that Mr. Hatchett gave up his post as Commissioner of the Revenue to accept another job with higher pay from a local body. However, we are certain Mr. Hatchett will continue to generalize on matters that should be made specific to the voter, that is about all he is equipped to do.

The most potent force we can have toward combating Communism is a citizenry aware of the workings and dangers of Communism. . . . By keeping tabs of the propaganda line as set forth in the party's known organs, we would be better able to recognize . . . its more subtle guise.—Dallas, Texas, aPrk Cities News.

THE DECISION

A SHORT STORY

By DOROTHY BOYS REILLY

They were sitting close together in the car at the depot waiting for the train from a previous train. The company will have a house ready for you by that time."

"Let's see," the young man said. "You've got to be married as soon as you arrive. The company will have a house ready for you by that time."

"Oh, Bill," Margie said. "Aren't you a bit of a girl, so completely different from anything I've ever known."

"Yes, and it's not as bad as it looks," Bill said. "But if we really love each other, what does all that matter?"

"I know it seems fantastic to you, Bill," Margie said miserably. "That I breathe like this. But you've been away from home off and on for years, first to college, then on various jobs, while my whole existence has been here in this little town. I know everybody, everybody knows me. The idea of going half way around the world to live in a foreign place where I don't know a soul."

"You'd know me," Bill reminded her.

"Yes, darling," Margie squeezed his hand. "And that ought to be enough. But somehow I had always pictured myself settling down right here. And then when you seemed to be all set here, too, everything looked perfect."

"I know this change of plans was a jolt, Margie, coming so suddenly, too. But when the company offered me this assignment and a big promotion I felt I felt I simply couldn't afford to turn it down."

"Of course you couldn't, Bill," Margie assured him.

"But in the meantime," Bill said bitterly, "your old friend, Jim Bailey, is starting in business right here in town. Makes him fit into your picture perfectly, doesn't it?"

"Oh, Bill!" Margie protested. "This is the time to put it straight, Margie. Do you really love him or me? I thought I knew the answer, but now I wonder."

"Jim's a nice guy, Bill, but you're the one I love. I'm absolutely sure of it," Margie answered.

"But if I trek off to the other side of the world now and leave him on the scene . . . Oh, Margie, I'm afraid to leave!" Bill pulled her closer to him.

"We're being watched," Margie warned, drawing back a little. "Mrs. Watson out there on the platform."

"The old biddy!" Bill exploded. "Why doesn't she get her own business?"

"Don't be too hard on her," Margie said. "She's probably thinking of all she's missed in life."

"What d'ya mean?" Bill demanded.

DALE CARNEGIE

Before and during the war, Eva St. Charles, 1960 Santa Fe Avenue, Long Beach, Calif., and her family operated several restaurants. They spoke a lot of money but she devoted the business. She had once been away from it for several years and when she had returned to it she had forgotten how she really felt about it.

By and by she and her husband bought a restaurant. She says she can hardly excuse herself for not knowing better than to get into it, but when she was in the same business she had promised herself she would never go into again.

A few days after they took over the restaurant, she began to question her sanity. A state of depression set in on her which slowly became worse. Instead of looking forward to each new day with cheerful thoughts, that might lift her out of this mental state, she felt morose, unhappy thoughts, take possession and they would last through the day. The only relief she had from this terrible self-lacerating feeling was when she was asleep. She wondered if she ever would be able to overcome it and be happy again.

Then someone gave her a copy of a book on "worry." As she read it, her slant on life gradually changed. She started applying to her life some of the rules contained in the book. Soon she felt like a new person and she declares she is happier now than she has been in a long time.

Here are some of the rules, the application of which she says is transforming her life:

1. When you are inclined to worry, lose yourself in action.
2. Cooperate with the inevitable.
3. Don't permit critics to irritate you.
4. Think cheerful thoughts; act cheerful.
5. Learn to relax—preferably out of doors.
6. Stop thinking about people you don't like.
7. Count your blessings every day.

Americans are remembering more and more that the Red Cross is the people themselves in action.

Tax Increase

to Frank W. Cox, during the past year, will pay $1,000 more for the same amount of property. The board of supervisors, in making the increase, is taking the opportunity to increase the bond issue by $1,000,000, and the board is voting that it was unable to prepare a long range plan for the schools of the district and wanted that the two proposed facilities would be filled to capacity at the time they are opened.

The board's approval of the proposed increase in the bond issue, however, was subject to several large deletions in attendance of its meeting.

Cox estimated that there will be 2,000 additional pupils in the district by September, 1954, based on a survey of housing now under construction and planned in the district.

He said the transfer of high school pupils from the Kempsville High school to the General High school will make room for 200 pupils and that 1,200 would be accommodated in the two proposed elementary schools.

At least one of the schools will be located in the Little Creek area, they told members of the board that acquisitions for a site on Little Creek Road were now in progress and near the settlement stage. No site has been selected for the second school, but Cox said it would be put on as soon as possible to the source of the greatest need.

In another action the supervisors referred back to the Planning Commission the highly controversial transfer of park operations, which it was slated to pass on final reading.

The ordinance, which puts stringent restrictions on the operation and character of trailer camps, also contained a clause making it mandatory for operators of parks already in existence to comply within one year. It was this clause that met with the greatest opposition and resulted in the park operators forming an organization. They were represented by legal counsel at the meeting.

And Her I.Q. Measures 169!

Former "Quis-Kid" Vanessa Brown, now starring in the Broadway play, "The Seven Year Itch," here proves that the brains of a genius are no handicap—if they don't show. Vanessa has hit the big time on stage, screen, and television—and she's also much in demand on the lecture platform. A cover story in the March Cosmopolitan magazine says she hopes to establish herself as a writer when her acting career wanes. At 26, she has already written a play and sold three stories.

When the opposition developed, Rhea Walker, chairman of the Planning Commission, asked that it be turned back to that group for further study and possible revision.

The supervisors also approved the enlargement of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Mosquito Control Commission to include the village of Oceana and some surrounding territory.

The proposal, which was prepared by R. E. Dorer, of the State Mosquito Control Commission, was presented to the board by Brad Pulley, representing the Oceana Civic League.

A public hearing, for any possible objections, will be held April 4.

A delegation from Chesapeake Beach civic organization and the Bayside Lions Club, secured from the board a promise that the county would make a study of a plan to clean the beaches there.

The delegation also conferred with J. H. Phillips, resident engineer for the State Highway Department on the erection of signs along the streets there to control parking. Phillips agreed to the request.

A delegation from the Seaside Neck section of the county, conferred with the board concerning the flooding of farmland in that area and the board asked Aubrey N. Holmes, of the Soil Conservation Service, to make a drainage study in the area and report back in April.

Taking advantage of State and Federal funds offered for the improvement of Inland River Road from Military Highway to Mear's Corner, the board agreed to acquire land for the right of way and pay for moving utility poles and other miscellaneous expense that will be involved.

W. H. Darden, right of way engineer with the State Highway Department, said that the new road would be constructed with State funds supplemented by a Federal grant.

The board also approved its annual budget and set new tax rates as are outlined in a story elsewhere on this page.

HERZER CONCERT WELL RECEIVED

Clifford Herzer, popular Tidewater pianist and a resident of Virginia Beach, had a pleasing concert in Norfolk this week in cooperation with the Junior Committee of Norfolk Society of Arts. The concert was given at the Norfolk Museum of Arts and Sciences.

Herzer's delightful program was warmly received and gave rise to the opinion of music lovers that this section is indeed fortunate in having Herzer among its residents. His style is pleasing and stimulating.

Jidato School Receives Books

Students of the Jidato School, a junior-senior high run by Methodist missionaries in Pakaur, India, are delighted with the colorfully-illustrated American books contained in a 910 CARE youth book package sent by Miss Lilly Jordan, Box 31, Greendale, Virginia.

"Try to imagine the joy of boys and girls who never had books with colored pictures," Miss Ruth Eveland, the school's hostel manager, wrote in a report just received at CARE headquarters, 20 Broad St., New York City. "Most books in India either have no pictures, or only black and white ones."

'Charlie Horses' Win Tournament

The Oceana Girls basketball tournament ended last week and the "Charlie Horses" coached by Joann Russell were the winners. In second and third place were the Marshalleites and Midgets respectively.

Then there came another tournament which consisted of one team from each of the high school grades. No varsity players were allowed to enter this tournament. The first game was between the eighth graders and the sophomores, the winner being the eighth grade. The second game was a thriller for the freshmen and the juniors, who won. Then it was time for the seniors to enter. They met the eighth graders and the eighth grade, who have really shown fine work, won the game which put them in a run for championship against the juniors. Well, guess who won—the eighth graders. This eighth grade team really consisted of a power house. Jane Pepper, a newcomer to Oceana, made an excellent showing as forward.

Carolyn Lucas and Myra Craddock also made a fine appearance on the offensive side. The three guards who held the other team were Virginia Smith, Irv Sawyer, and Louise Phillips.

The Jidato School, the report explained, is part of the relief-and-rehabilitation program conducted by the Methodist mission in the Santal District of Pakaur, Bihar State, a 9 x 15 mile area of small villages whose people, though hard-working, are too often underfed, diseased and illiterate. Students graduate to Jidato, which has boarding facilities, from the eight one-room primary schools the Mission maintains throughout the District.

Catholic Services Held at Ft. Story

FORT STORY—Father John T. Ciliński, a member of the Diocese Missionary Fathers, currently touring military installation conducting information programs and promoting good will, spent several days here recently holding special Catholic services for military personnel.

The Missionary Fathers, with headquarters at St. Mary's Church in Richmond, devote the winter months to visiting military camps and stations. During the summer the Fathers sponsor a Motor Chapel and hold similar services in small communities.

Father Ciliński held his services here at the Chapel of St. Theresa, originally constructed by the Catholic parish of Virginia but taken over by the military when Fort Story expanded.

Naval facilities in the Yorktown area are next on Father Ciliński's itinerary.

Enlistments at Fort Story Now Being Accepted

FORT STORY, Second Lt. Zenas H. McClung, Jr., personnel officer in charge of recruiting, has announced that young men with prior Army service may now enlist for initial assignments at Fort Story, providing they do so within 90 days from their last discharge.

This new recruiting policy provides an excellent opportunity for ex-servicemen from this area who want to reenlist but who want to remain in this vicinity.

Job assignments are primarily associated with Transportation Corps activities which at Fort Story consist of amphibious vehicle operations using the Army DUKW.

Those interested in taking advantage of this reenlistment opportunity may get detailed information by contacting the Recruiting Officer at Fort Story.

Garrison Review Honors General

FORT STORY — Thirty six DUKWs with crews from this amphibious vehicle training center participated in a garrison review honoring the retiring Army Chief of Transportation, Maj. Gen. Frank A. Heilmann, at Fort Story Friday.

Col. Henry G. Lagarde, sub-instantiation commander, with 50 percent of the assigned officer personnel here, joined Brig. Gen. Harold R. Duffie, Commanding General of the Transportation Center, high ranking officers of the Army, Navy, Air Force and members of the Department of Defense in honoring the 61-year-old general who first entered the Army in 1916 as a private in the Missouri National Guard.

The regular meeting of the Virginia Beach Rotary Club at Albano's Restaurant tonight will be devoted to gathering and packaging used clothing to be sent to Germany.

The project is a result of a direct appeal from West Germany to Rotary Clubs throughout the world for clothing to care for thousands of Germans fleeing from East Germany into the Western Zone.

Virginia Beach Rotarians heard the appeal last week when President Harold Kellam read a letter from West Germany. Myron Sturgeon is chairman of the project for the club.

"JIDOSHIA NI YORU MISEINENSHA NO JISATU"

Lumbermen's Mutual has adapted its dramatic safety film "Last Date" for use by the Japanese. The film contains a new word, "teknide," which is described as "the fine art of killing yourself with an automobile before reaching age 20." In Japanese this definition is translated: "jidoshia ni yoru miseinensha no jisatu" literally "automobile by means of killing self."

Safety belts, which have been so effective in lessening airplane crash injuries, can now be bought for automobiles. Experts state that they will be just as effective in automobiles, but that the public will need a good deal of education to adopt them.

The Queen's Dreamer

Norman Hartnell, born in London on June 12th, 1901, became the first Englishman to make English clothes for English women when he started the English couture, opening his own small shop in July 1923. . . . He attached the haute couture of Paris and was the first Englishman to cross the channel and show simultaneously with the big French houses. . . . He became famous for magnificent wedding gowns early in his career. . . . When the beautiful Duchess of Gloucester gave the order for her wedding dress and for those of the two young English princesses who were to be her bridesmaids, this indicated the first sign of Royal approval for Hartnell. . . . He won the coveted McManis-Marcus American Award in Dallas, 1947, for the greatest influence on contemporary fashion. . . . Hartnell did all the dresses for the South African tour for Her Majesty the Queen and Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret. . . . He was commended to undertake the entire bridal retinue—bride, bridesmaids and the troupeau—for H. R. H. Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh and he made the majority of the wardrobe Americans saw on Princess Elizabeth's tour of Canada and her visit to the United States. . . . At the death of the late King George VI, his entire staff of 350 people was given over to making the mourning wardrobe for the ladies of the Royal Family. . . . At the moment, Norman Hartnell is putting the finishing touches to the gold cloth embroidered high-princess-line gown Queen Elizabeth will wear under her royal capes, robes and so on during her coronation on June 2. . . . Never let it be said you have never heard of Norman Hartnell for certainly his coronation fashions will have much influence on next winter's evening gown and cape fashions. Wait and see!

Spring's True Color

When Easter parades step forth come April fifth, navy blue—the color of the ages, the color of all ages—will predominate. Navy blue gives such a gay hit to the young and such a wonderful lift to the mature wearer. Watch for many navy blue wool suits with box jackets, very straight-skirted with bright red linings and gold buttons. Of course, the golden and sand-biegies as well as the grey tones will be popular this Easter, too. But, true blue, navy blue, will be the tops!

Beads and Bracelets

At last, beads are real jewels themselves in the Spring accessory picture. We've had them on shoes, sweaters, belts, gloves, purses, scarves and what-nots but many, many strings of gay-colored beads in smartest twists and ties is the latest word. Many bright beads brought into your fashion picture will add color. Some beads, wound together, will be worn about the top-shoulders in scarf fashion and the more beads you wear wound 'round your wrists, the better. To say nothing of the simply huge all-bead circles for your ears. Did you see the necklace worn at the waist-front of a high-styled gown which was made up of a canolite sweater and a mink bolero in the latest Vogue? Probably the coronation jeweled idea popping up already.

The All-Important Spring Blouse

And, believe me, it is important because it's meant this spring to show your what-nots but many, many new straight box jackets. Printed blouses on the tailored side; the draped blouse with its neckline as carefully draped as a dress; the cardigan blouse with its enormous pearl buttons; smart white blouse.

Merry Matrons

By ALBEE

Can clothes really make the woman? Definitely "no," but they can tell the story of "you." Take the story of the merriest of matrons, lovable, danceable, Mary Martin. Mary learned the hard way that it is not good to hide your own individuality.

When Texas-born Mary left the Broadway stage and her "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" warbling for a quick trip to Hollywood, the powers-that-be there tried to make her into another Ginger Rogers, the top star at the time. They made Mary wear her brightened-up hair long and curly swirling over her shoulders, hoping to hide her long neck. Turning her out with long billowing skirts and high heel pumps for the prissy Mary just made her feel uncertain and bewildered as to just who she was supposed to be. It frightened her because she knew she didn't look nor feel like Mary Martin, her happy, gamine-like self. Her singing and dancing suffered and she was soon winning her way east again, back to Broadway.

Manbacher, the designer who dressed her for her next hit, "One Touch of Venus," had to make her look like the Greek goddess who got down off her pedestal. He draped her in sleek black satin and with her hair—its natural color again—piled high on her head, she began to take on the sophisticated look which is typical of Mary now off stage. He tied a narrow black velvet ribbon around her neck and gave her a brand new look making the most too, of her long and lovely neck. This Mary found out that dressing up her own individual look, playing up to it, brought out the real Mary Martin with the warm and happy personality that the world over has taken to his heart.

Mrs. Constance T. Moore, Beach artist, was a beautiful picture herself at the Herzer center wearing a camellia red hat and camellias—on one stem—to match her bonnet. She is painting a portrait of Tony Burke at the moment.

Mary Taylor Gwatney of Bird-Point told our Albree about her friend who is planning a trip to visit friends in England, to witness the coronation, and how she'll receive a letter from them telling her they've bought the best possible television set so that they will not have to sit "in the stands" to watch the Queen pass by from seven-thirty in the morning till four in the afternoon as all must do whether they pay one hundred, seventy-five, sixty or what have you dollars for the eighteen inches of space allotted viewers on their six foot high outdoor stands along the route to Westminster Abbey. Some fun, going all the way to England to sit down in an easy chair—as the smartest of us will be doing here in America—to view the Queen!

Myrtle Herzer, the merriest matron of them all, off to New York on a gift-shop-buying spree and then back to her own "The Hope Chest" at Petoskey, Michigan, where hangs a sign "If you break it, you buy it." Myrtle made many friends at the Beach while she was here at the Mayflower with her son the past winter months. Her business cards, by the by, are beautifully designed and made in Florence, Italy.

Mrs. John E. Adenbrock's home on 69th street, with its new candle-lit atmosphere, is one of the most atmospheric homes at bedtime. It was our good fortune to have a spot and a snack last Friday after the Cavalier Garden Club's concert at the Cavalier, and the candles, the crackling fire in the fireplace and the charm peeping out of every corner of this home was a pleasant experience to a first visitor.

If you want to hear exciting descriptions, get little Lil Olsen, the tiny matron in the Mayflower, to tell you about the visits the Duke of Windsor used to make on weekends to Munich in his bachelor days, during Hitler's regime. Lil is a fascinating story-teller and having lived in Germany so many years has many exciting tales to tell about that period. She fairly sparkles when she talks. All of which is a good tip to merry matrons: keep interested in people and things about you and retain your enthusiasm if you would.

Very Important Spring Note
The most important spring fashion is the coat-lined dress ensemble with the coat lined with the same silk print as used in the dress. This is carried out also in the suit with printed blouse and lining to match combination. Prints are gay and they're fun and pleasant to wear so how about stepping out in print for Easter for that gay, important new look?

IT'S FUN TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK

Food Editor

See "Let's Cook" every Monday through Friday at 12:45 on WTAR-TV

The Poultry & Egg National Board is plentiful and is truly an economical purchase.

Eggs provide the key to excellent, sustaining family meals and all during Lent will surely help you in planning many Lenten dishes.

The protein in eggs is complete—eggs furnish all the amino acids essential to building and repairing body tissues. They contain minerals and vitamins essential to building and maintaining strong, healthy bodies. Eggs are truly for the matron in and out of the Lenten Season.

If any one adjective describes eggs just perfectly it is the word "versatile," because there are hundreds of different ways to prepare this favorite food of people the world over.

Homemakers are well aware of this versatility 12 months of the year but certainly appreciate it more during the Lenten Season. They know that they can prepare many "last minute meals" and good ones too by frying, scrambling, poaching and combining eggs with other foods resulting in delicious, satisfying meals. Meals built around eggs are always nutritious and delicious.

I think the recipe that I'm about to give you is one you will enjoy—find it easy to prepare and very good to serve—it definitely has eye appeal and it is important.

Deviled eggs is a masterpiece! Cook 1/2 pound extra marinated in salted water—drain.

In sauce pan melt 1/2 stick butter or margarine, blend in 3 tablespoons flour. 1 Teaspoon mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon paprika, dash onion salt, dash celery salt, add 2 cups milk and stir constantly until mixture thickens. Lastly, blend in 1 cup graded American cheese and thoroughly mix with macaroni, put in 2 quart greased casserole, dot generously with cheddar sauce, arrange 8 halves of eggs that you have deviled. Sprinkle lightly with paprika, bake 30 minutes at 325 degrees.

So long now; see you next week. (Continued on Page 5)

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Biff" Falls for His Own Story

Every night Mrs. Morgan complained about how hard it was to get Rusty to go to sleep. Finally Biff decided to handle the situation. "Anyone can get a kid to sleep — takes a little patience! Here, hand me her storybook."

He grabs the book and goes into Rusty's room. Almost an hour later Rusty comes padding out in pajamas and hands her mother the book. "Read it quietly," she whispers, "so we don't wake Daddy."

From where I sit, Biff won't be so quick to be a "child-care specialist" any more. If we could just read being such "know it all," our neighbors would be better off. Talk about who would do a good job of being with my nephew—well, I might not say for the love of my life, but we all ought to realize that we all have different abilities and different preferences, too.

MEMO

Pay first quarter N.W. Federal income taxes
$10,600,000 March 16
Paid March 16

The month of March makes just about everybody tax conscious—with a bang! Whether your income tax bill is ten dollars or a whopping ten million dollars—it always looks too big.

As we think of taxes this month three pictures come to mind. The first, of course, is the very size of our bill. Second—a picture of what we think the money is spent for. Third, whether the money is being spent wisely and well.

First picture: Take the N. & W. for example—its Federal bill for 1952 amounted to $30,756,931, plus $8,799,866 paid to the cities, towns, counties and the six states the railroad serves—Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, North Carolina, Maryland and Kentucky. That makes our total $39,556,797. That's not "small change".

Second scene: Where do tax dollars go? To pay for national defense and operate the huge Federal Government, in addition to the steadily increasing cost of state and local governments.

Now—we must turn to the third scene, asking the inevitable question: Is our money being wasted... or not?

If tax dollars are going down the drain as waste and inefficiency, we, as citizens, have the duty of KNOWING where and how, and of expressing our protests. Citizen-tax-payers have the right to control and can control the expenditures of tax dollars at county, town, city, state and federal government levels—if they keep informed... vigilant... and vocal.

Your taxes and N. & W. taxes are for the purpose of helping to improve the general welfare of all of us... but we must know where our money is going, and why!

TERRY PARKS

A wedding of interest here, which took place last Saturday afternoon at St. Paul's Church, Petersburg was that of Miss Hilah Lee Parks, daughter of Mrs. James Harvey Johnson of Petersburg and Miss Victor Parks, Jr. U. S. A. (ret.) of Norfolk to Frank C. Terry of Roanoke and the late Mr. Terry. The Rev. Sydney C. Swan, Jr., rector of the church, performed the ceremony in the setting of evergreens, white cut flowers and candelabras.

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, Gen. James Harvey Johnson, U. S. A. (ret.) She wore a wedding gown of chattering lace and candlelight satin. The very full satin skirt formed a circular train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was arranged from a matching lace Juliet cap and she carried a white prayer book topped with white orchids and showered with lily-of-the-valley.

She had as her honor attendants her two sisters, Mrs. Norvin Samuel Veal of Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla., and Mrs. Richard Saunders Coffey, Jr. of Norfolk. The other attendants were Miss Elizabeth Beverly Terry of Roanoke, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Mary Greenhow Parham, Miss Morris Woody, of Richmond and Mrs. Eugene Russell Marshall, Jr., both of Petersburg. They all wore mint green taffeta dresses. They were matching mits and green velvet headresses with veiling and carried bouquets of forsythia, jonquils and yellow daisies. Little Miss Victoria Lee Veal, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white dress and carried a miniature bouquet of spring flowers. Her brother, Thomas Holliday Veal was ring bearer.

Thomas Downman Rutherford of Salem was best man for his cousin. The ushers were Samuel Philip Kinsey, Loren L. Parker, Jr., of Petersburg, Dr. Hugh J. Hagan, Jr., George L. Pitzer of Roanoke and Alexander K. Ball, Jr. of Danville.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the country club of Petersburg. Later Mr. Terry and his bride left for a southern wedding trip after which they will reside at 419 Maycox Street, Walnut Hill, Petersburg. The bride traveled in a two piece tweed linen suit dress. She wore white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Many people from the Beach attended the wedding as Miss Parks has spent much of her time at the Beach and has many friends and relatives here.

Miss Margery Lindeman, a student at St. Mary's College, Raleigh is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. B. K. Lindeman at her home on Holly Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Seth and their daughter, Miss Susan Seth of Baltimore will spend this week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Taylor at their home "Longhaul," Linkhorn Park.

Floyd Domine, Jr. is spending his spring vacation with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Domine at their home in Linkhorn Park. He is a student at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

the most beautiful tree in town, too. Mrs. Owen Moore and her stepping out in her favorite green shades is always the heralding of Spring. Melie prefers green with her bright flame tresses and her newest most green bonnet sure does much to complete her gay spring picture of fashion.

Susan Hayward, playing Rachel Jackson in "The President's Lady" film, wears a wide-knit stole with scalloped edges in a scene depicting Andrew Jackson's story in 1814, that could be easily worn today by any merry matron who has the fashionable fashion calendar.

Lesley Savage is telling of the possibilities of an entire unit appearing in her summer Theater-Go-Round group from Sammy Mizner's New York school, a group that worked together this winter in his Actors' Lab unit.

Mrs. Patrick Allen's smart white shell hat—like one she wore at the Helix concert—makes her look like the Duchess of Windsor!

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Peterson of Petersburg, spent last week-end at the Peterson's home in Cavalier Shores.

John Mapp and John Cole, Jr., students at the Virginia Military Academy, Lexington, will arrive Saturday to spend their vacation with their parents.

Capt. and Mrs. William Lamb of New Orleans left last Friday after spending a month with their son and daughter-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. William Lamb on 53rd Street. They were accompanied to Columbia, S. C. by their daughter-in-law.

Capt. Edward Raguet, U.S.N. (ret.) and Mrs. Raguet returned Tuesday to their home on Raleigh Drive after spending six weeks at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

COMING EVENT SENDS STUDENTS TO GEOGRAPHY

Interest in the coming coronation of Queen Elizabeth II has led Mrs. Grace DuVal's class into a study of the geography of the British Isles. The class has made maps to illustrate this study.

As a result of the interest in the coronation itself the class has obtained much literature on the coming event, and has made a study of the pageantry and ceremony which will mark this important event in English history.

Multiple Bathroom Trend Again On Upswing After Post-war Slump

If figures don't lie—and there's no reason why they should—then residents of Virginia are going to be cleaner than ever.

This promise of higher-than-ever living standards is seen by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers' Association in a series of figures supplied by Government and building trade sources. In 1950, for example, the U. S. Bureau of the Census found that 55.0 dwelling units in Virginia had private baths compared with 36.1 ten years ago.

The GAMA report points out that ten years ago, when relatively few homes were being built, approximately 20 percent of them throughout the country had more than one bath. Then a dark ring settled on the bath-pupils to show such state with its flower, flag, rivers, trails to the West, and date of joining the Union, can be seen.

In tracing the growth of the United States from coast to coast, the pupils became interested in learning of the inventions that have aided our country's progress. Several members of the class have listed over two hundred inventions. The lists give the inventor, the date of the invention, and important events of the period.

Steve Rhinehart leads the class with a list of two hundred and thirty inventions. Danny Nelson is close behind with two hundred and ten.

rub picture during the postwar period. Soaring costs and the trend to smaller homes pulled the plug on the bathroom market so that the number of houses being built with more than one bathroom dropped to about five percent.

Now, GAMA says, the trend is reversed. The Bureau of Labor Statistics found that houses started in the metropolitan Washington area, including Fairfax and Arlington counties, in 1949 only 18 percent had more than one bath. By 1951 this number had soared to 29 percent, the GAMA report continues.

"That's the reason," says J. P. Hutchings, chairman of the water heater division of GAMA, "why business has picked up appreciably in all types of bath-room equipment, not ably water heaters. Contractors are installing 40 and 50-gallon automatic gas water heaters to take care of the extra hot-water demands of the modern two-bathroom home."

Passenger cars actually are working took for two-thirds of the households in this country. Some 200,000 service stations exist to keep them running.

Kempsville 4-H Club Members Busily Engaged

The Kempsville Senior and Junior 4-H Club members made St. Patrick's Day favors to go on the trays of patients in the hospital on St. Patrick's Day.

Mickey Kirby and Dalton Wood of the Senior Club and Betty Ann Lee of the Junior Club met with Red Cross Officials at the Naval Hospital in Portsmouth and helped distribute the favors made by their club members. After this other St. Patrick's Day novelties were carried to the patients in local nursing homes.

Both clubs are helping the Red Cross meet their quota on Easter favors and other articles needed.

Boys in the Senior Club are working on cribbage boards which will be given to the patients in the Naval Hospital when completed.

In addition to the Easter favors for the Red Cross the senior members will continue sending Easter remembrances to the patients at the city farm and filling Easter baskets to be distributed to the underprivileged children and aged in this area.

The Senior Club members have had this as an annual goal for the past five years and this year the Junior Club members are assisting them.
